Against striking teachers

School district to seek court injunction

Strike hikers

Six Romulus public school teachers last week walked some 90 miles from the steps of the Capitol building in Lansing to Romulus to enlist support and unity for the teacher strikes there which began March 10. Shown are Larry Thomas (from left), Don Foley, Lance Knudson, Bill Thomas, Mark Anderson and John Juriga. Romulus is one of four school districts out of 14 members of the Wayne County-Michigan Education Association-National Education Association (WC-MEA-NEA) which went on strike that day after contract talks came to a halt. Striking is illegal under Michigan law. (Photo by John Lynch.)

Although costly in terms of education and money, the teacher strike in Romulus, now entering its third week, is giving some 6,000 students an unexpected and extended vacation.

Latest word from the Romulus school system is that it will go to Wayne County Circuit Court tomorrow to seek an injunction to enjoin teachers from striking.

Dr. Terrel M. LeCesne, personnel and employee relations manager, who has been serving as chief negotiator for the school system, Monday said Romulus has joined the Gibraltar, Southgate and Woodhaven School districts in pursuing legal action to stop the local strike.

The three neighboring school districts acted earlier in seeking the help of the courts and are awaiting word on their efforts.

The four school districts were chosen by the Wayne County-Michigan Education Association-National Education Association (WC-MEA-NEA) from its 14-member school districts as target areas in which teacher strikes were hoped to influence stalled contract talks.

By joining together last year, the newly-formed group hoped to exert more leverage at the bargaining table. However, under state law, strikes by public school teachers are illegal.

LeCesne said the Romulus school board is sticking to its latest wage offer of a 26 percent salary increase over a 3-year period, 8 percent for the first year and 9 percent for each of the remaining two years.

He said the WC-MEA-NEA is holding out for a 34 percent salary boost over three years, 10 percent for the first year and 12 percent for the last two years.

Under the board's 26 percent offer, teachers at the top end of the salary scale with an education specialist degree would earn $33,362 after three years. This contrasts to $35,876 under the teachers' union group demand of 34 percent after three years.

LeCesne said two of the 14 school districts in the WC-MEA-NEA group have settled for a 2 percent pay hike over three years. They are Lincoln Park and Allen Park. In Crestwood in Dearborn Heights, teachers accepted a 28 percent pay boost over three years, he said.

He said a meeting of the Romulus school system and WC-MEA-NEA, scheduled for last Friday, was called off when the union group failed to notify the mediator in the case of their intentions to attend.

Al Gaiss, public relations consultant for WC-MEA-NEA, last week said nearly 1,000 teachers from the group's 14 school districts picketed at Romulus High School to show their support for their 1,100 striking teacher colleagues in Romulus, Woodhaven, Gibraltar and Woodhaven.

He said the picketing was highlighted by the return of six Romulus teachers who had begun walking from the steps of the State Capitol in Lansing the previous Monday.

He said many teachers from Ingham, Lenawee, Washtenaw and Wayne counties accompanied the six teachers on their 90-mile trek.

George Alperwitz, president of the 3,600-member WC-MEA-NEA, commented last Wednesday: "Our teachers have walked 90 plus miles during the past three days to show citizens of this state and county that they are deserving of a new contract which is fair and equitable to the realities of the day."

"After working six months without a contract, teachers had two choices — one, to strike and bring this issue to its conclusion, or two to continue working and in all likelihood work the entire school year without a contract."

"We chose to strike. We believe it is time new contracts were negotiated."

Regardless of the outcome of the strike or what sort of contract settlement is reached, at least 50 Romulus teachers will face layoffs, said Marvin Fischer, interim superintendent.

He explained that it will take that many teacher terminations for the school board to balance its budget.

Fischer said a letter, sent recently by the school system to parents, reminded them that days lost as a result of the teacher strike would have to be made up to comply with the state law requiring 180 days of school for all public school students.

If not made up, days lost could result in a substantial loss in revenues for the Romulus school system in state aid.

Romulus school officials have not commented on the need for more millage should a contract be signed that would exceed the school district's ability to pay.

Should the school board agree to pay hike higher than its latest 26 percent offer, in all likelihood taxpayers in the Romulus school district would be asked for additional millage to bail local schools out.

If the school board sticks to its guns, insisting that it cannot pay more than the 26 percent figure over the next three years, then the outcome of the teacher strike and a contract settlement may have to be decided in the courts.

Council rejects bids for park's handball courts

Action taken last week by the Romulus City Council included rejection of all bids for construction of an outdoor handball court at Elmer Johnson Park.

Bids received Jan. 31, 1980, ranged from a low of $59,287 to a high of $83,095, far above the consulting engineer's estimate of between $30,000 to $35,000.

from a check to the city for $5,815 from the Clark Oil Co. He explained that Clark reimbursed the city for fire fighting equipment destroyed when the city fire department helped battle the explosion and fire recently at the Clark Oil Co. tank farm in Taylor.

"The funds received from Clark Oil Co. will be more than sufficient to cover the cost," Cantrell's memorandum to council stated.

Council also voted to let bids for contractual weed cutting services, mainly for vacant lots in the city. The action was recommended by the mayor.

According to information supplied to the mayor by Lee Silvey, ordinance director, an estimated $12,000 will be needed.

The council also voted to reappoint Wayne Avery, president of the Romulus school board, to the Romulus Planning Commission.

Oakley had contacted the school board, asking if it wished to recommend Avery for reappointment or select another board member to serve on the commission for the next three years.

The mayor stated in his letter that he believed at least one school board member should serve on the planning body to reflect the opinion of the local school district.

The board informed the mayor that it wished to keep Avery on the planning commission.

'The funds... will be more than sufficient...'

The council vote followed the recommendation of Mayor William M. Oakley.

In other action, the council approved letting of bids for the purchase of 1,000 feet of 1½-inch fire hose, 1,000 feet of 2½-inch fire hose and four Scott air paks.

Raymond Cantrell, city purchasing director, said funds for the equipment's purchase would come

Inspection tour

Dennis Davison, director of the Romulus Parks and Recreation Department, recently inspected the damage done at Park No. 1, located at Henry Ruff and Beverly roads, by trail bike riders. The riders have entered the park and have ridden their bikes over the wet sod on the play areas. As a result of the damage, the park will be closed and the accesses padlocked until further notice. Due to extremely wet conditions, Elmer Johnson and Merriman parks also will be closed until they can be properly prepared for normal use. (Photo by Jay Young).

Council OKs increases in building permit fees

The Romulus City Council, with one abstention, approved a recommendation of the mayor and city building department that all building permit fees be increased, effective immediately. The one abstaining vote was cast by Councilman Gerry Canejo.

In a letter to the City Council, Mayor William Oakley cited the steadily rising costs of performing inspections by licensed city inspectors, required education, clerical work, memberships and other administrative expenses as reasons for his recommendation.

In a supporting memorandum, George Bingham, building director, stated that "the fees charged by the Building Department for its various permits generally have been unchanged since before Romulus became a city," and have made Romulus' fee schedule extremely low compared to nearby municipalities.

Bingham also noted that the basic building permit fee of $10 for the first $1,000 of cost and $4 for each additional $1,000 of cost remains unchanged.

The principal areas of permit fee increases are in the areas of city certification inspections and plumbing, heating-refrigeration and electrical inspections. These required inspections are of the work of licensed contractors by licensed specialists in these construction trades. The permit fees for maintenance and improvement of residential property have been increased the least, Bingham concluded.

In urging adoption of the revised fee schedule, Mayor Oakley said he believed the new fees would more reasonably reflect the actual cost of the Building Department's operation, as well as costs per square foot of construction.

For a complete listing of the new fee schedule, call 941-0666, ext. 269.

Sumpter center to conduct Project Health screening

Free health screening for all persons 18 years of age or older will be given April 19 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Sumpter Family Health Center, 19130 Sumpter Road.

The local screening is part of a week of health screening-health promotion from April 14-20 sponsored by WXYZ-TV and Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan in cooperation with the United Foundation, the American Red Cross, Southeastern Michigan Chapter, and the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations, Inc.

Tests given at the free screening will include height, weight, blood pressure, low-blood anemia, vision, counseling and referral. At some locations, free screening also will be given for hearing, sickle cell anemia, glaucoma, health hazard appraisal and oral.

Local residents who plan to avail themselves of the free health screening should come prepared to give the name and address of their family physician.

Sponsors of Project Health 1980 explain that the tests are designed to alert citizens to possible health problems. Should test results fall outside normal limits, residents will be referred to their family doctors. Those persons without a regular family doctor will be told where to go for medical help.

For additional information, local residents are asked to call the hot line at 393-1976 Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., after April 7.

Martin named to Dean's List at U of M-D

Romulus resident Diane Martin of Julie Street has been named to the Dean's List for the fall term at the University of Michigan-Dearborn. Ms. Martin is in the Division of Education at the university's Dearborn campus.

Also on the college scene:

Three Belleville residents were among 1,900 Ferris State College students to be included on the Dean's List for the winter quarter.

Compiling a 3.25 grade point average or better at the Big Rapids college were Jon K. Batzer of Clarence, Belleville; Pamela S.

Fitch of Second Street, Belleville; and David W. Poore of Bayshore Drive, Belleville.

Mark A. Priest, an Albion College freshman, has pledged the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity this spring.

Priest is a 1979 graduate of Belleville High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Priest of Wilson Street, Belleville.

Two Belleville residents, Mary Baxter and Stan King, recently appeared in two light operas, performed by the Eastern Michigan University Opera Workshop.

Staged March 21-22, the two works were Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial By Jury" and excerpts from the first act of Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte (The School for Lovers)".

Ms. Baxter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Baxter of Judd Road, Belleville, played Dorabella in "Cosi Fan Tutte." She is a junior at Eastern, majoring in vocal music education.

King, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack King of Endicott, Belleville, alternated between the roles of defendant Edwin in "Trial by Jury" and Ferrando in "Cosi Fan Tutte." He is a junior, majoring in vocal music.

Two Belleville residents were appointed to the staff of Eastern Michigan University by the Board of Regents at its March 19 meeting.

Dawn Miller was appointed senior secretary in the Career Planning and Placement Center, while Dawn Pollard was appointed a secretary in the Clerical Pool.

Kathryn L. Gouin of West Jackson

Road, Belleville, was awarded her master of science degree in nursing at the winter commencement ceremonies, held Dec. 19 in Cobo Hall, of Wayne State University.

The 1979-80 edition of "Who's Who in Music" will carry the names of 12 students from Romulus Senior High School, who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding high school music students.

Henry James Jr., band director, and head of the school's nominating committee, and the editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their music ability, academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

Students named this year from Romulus Senior High School are Todd Blackburn, Kathy Brainerd, Jeffrey Cady, Michele Nickel, David J. Payne, Denise Willard, Lorie Willoughby, Charles Lyles, Shannon Rhodes, Kim Silvey, Cindi Garrett and Walter Askew.

Texaco, Standard Oil added to gas boycott

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

A consumer boycott of the Exxon Corp. has been expanded to include two more of the oil industry's leading profit makers — Standard Oil and Texaco.

The boycott is being spearheaded by the Consumers League for Fair Pricing, the brainchild of Ypsilanti Township resident Lonnie White.

According to White, the two firms have been added to the boycott because both have numerous stations throughout Michigan, recorded high profits in 1979 and are using a minimal portion of those profits for new oil exploration.

So far the league has collected more than 500 signatures on petitions supporting the boycott. White says that figure will jump quickly as soon as figures are in on petitions circulating in the Saline and Milan areas.

"We demand a return on these ridiculously high profits of the oil companies in the form of lower prices," White said. "It's our turn to make demands, and we demand to be treated fairly."

White went on to say that consumers have done little in the past to fight gasoline price increases, believing the increases would eventually level off, but indications that gasoline may cost as much as $2 a gallon by the end of the year "indicates consumers have been naive in their expectations."

According to White, the boycott has been endorsed by UAW Local 176 and Ypsilanti Township Supervisor Ron Allen, and is being aided by Stu Mulligan, acting financial secretary of UAW Local 735. And reportedly Mulligan wants the boycott to be endorsed by the local's membership.

With the help of volunteers, White has compiled a list of gasoline prices in the area, showing a 23-cent difference in per gallon costs. The prices range from $109 per gallon for regular and $1.13 for unleaded at some Boron gas stations to $1.32 cents a gallon for regular and $1.36 for unleaded at Union 76 stations.

"It's time the consumer stopped sitting on their hands, protecting themselves," he added. "We've been ripped off and led like lost sheep, now it's our turn."

The Consumers League for Fair Pricing, while helping to forward the boycott movement, also is seeking donations to get the word out. White hopes to have the price lists printed up for public distribution so they can serve as a consumer guide for gasoline purchases.

"We gave the people the chance, now it's up to the people," he said.

"And actually all they have to do in the morning is tell themselves they're not going to do business with those three companies."

Persons interested in further information on the boycott can contact White at 485-0387, or by writing the Consumers League for Fair Pricing, 677 Dorsett, Ypsilanti 48197.

VB 5 loses appeal

The Michigan Supreme Court has refused to hear an appeal from Van Buren Township on an order of a Wayne County Circuit Court judge to approve a sewer hookup for a mobile home developer.

Richard G. James, township attorney, told last week's meeting of the township board that all legal appeals to state courts have now been exhausted. He said it was now up to the plaintiffs as to what course the case would take.

The board's refusal to follow the order of Judge Charles Kaufman landed them in the Wayne County Jail for one day in December 1978 and for eight days in March 1979.

The board contended that the judge did not have the legal right to order them how to vote and that his order usurped their official duties as elected officials of the township.

The board also refused to approve the hookup to the Ypsilanti sewer system because they believed it would further jeopardize pollution in Belleville Lake and would violate terms of a sewage disposal pact with several downriver communities.

Under that contract, Van Buren is committed to send its sewage through the downriver system.

The case involving the sewer hookup and the board's incarceration in jail made national headlines. Strong support for the board's stand came from all segments of the Van Buren community.

The case began back in 1972 when the mobile home developer bypassed the normal township channels and succeeded in having Judge Kaufman approve zoning for the mobile home park.

Whether the township will take the case to a higher court outside the jurisdiction of the State of Michigan is undecided at the moment.

When Judge Kaufman released the five jailed members of the board who refused to sign the sewer agreement two other board members were released after one day when they agreed to follow the judge's order. They agreed to follow the court's order after they had exhausted all legal avenues to appeal the case.

Should any or all of the five board members now refuse to sign the sewer agreement, they face the distinct possibility of again being jailed.

During the time they were jailed on the second occasion, the board also received written and telephoned support from many state communities and from many areas across the nation.

At old township hall

VB board OKs rent increases

Accepting one of the two recommendations made by its auditor, the Van Buren Township Board last week voted to hike the rent for three full-time occupants of the old township hall in Belleville.

Ron Traskos recommended that current rentals be increased by 12 1/2 percent to compensate for spiraling inflation and projected costs for utilities.

He told the board that his review of utility bills for the old township hall for the last two years showed an increase of 15 percent for each of the years. Of the $4,800 received by the township in rent for the last two years, $2,117 went for utilities and $2,683 represented the funds used as cash flow.

The new rate will now boost monthly rent for Associated Newspapers from $200 to $225, Adventure Travel Service from $150 to $170, and the Belleville Chamber of Commerce from $50 to $55.

Trustee Fred Domen asked Traskos where the rental money went and was told it went directly into the township's general fund.

Gary Sampson, owner of the Adventure Travel Service, disagreed with Traskos that rentals had been frozen over the last two years. He said his rent had been boosted from the original $125 to $150 per month.

Sampson said he was there to complain about a heat problem in his quarters at the front of the old township hall and to reveal the run-down condition of the roof over the building.

He exhibited two pieces of old roof shingle that he said had fallen into the yard around the building.

Domen agreed that the cash flow left over after utility bills were paid should go toward repairing the roof and windows and to maintain the old structure.

"An occupied building is better than an unoccupied building," he declared. "I don't think the rent increases are out of line."

Supervisor Pat Cullin said the township had proposed to make needed improvements on the building, but had to back off due to lack of funds.

"The building is 103 years old," Sampson stressed. "The renters should not have to bear the brunt of expenses."

The board approved a motion by Trustee Joe DiDia to have the township building inspector inspect the building to see what needs to be repaired.

Sampson told the board that he personally has spent $4,000 for improvements to his quarters over the last two years, including installation of a new screen door and storm windows.

He contended it was "unfair" for renters who had spent that amount of money for improvements to be "bumped" with rental increases.

Discussion ended with Sampson admitting: "The building does have a lot of character."

3 'short' Haggerty roads renamed by VB board

Three short stretches of roadway, all called Haggerty Road on area maps, were all renamed in action, taken last week, by the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

The board approved recommendations for the renaming, made by Cathy Horste, township historian.

The short stretch of Haggerty Road going north from Huron River Drive will be called French Landing Road. The roadway back in the 1830s was a main street that led to the old French Landing Village. The village came to an end in 1922 when land was sold to Detroit Edison to build the dam which now stands in that area, Horste said.

A shorter section named Haggerty Road, which runs north from Edison Lake Road to just past Alden Avenue was renamed Coy Farm Road. Horste said the Coy family which came to the area about 1830 originally owned the land.

She said that in 1892 Dr. Albert Coy attempted to build a dam, but that it caved in. His descendants sold the land to Detroit Edison in 1922, and the giant utility built the French Landing Dam using the earth embankment constructed by Dr. Coy.

A third stretch of Haggerty Road which runs south from the South Service Drive of I-94 was renamed Lakeview Court. Horste explained to the board that Lakeview Court now runs a short distance south of that stretch of Haggerty Road and deadends at Belleville Lake. Her recommendation now renames the combined length of the two roadways as Lakeview Court.

Renaming of the three sections of Haggerty Road north of Huron River Drive will eliminate much confusion and also serve to honor early settlers of the area, she explained.

In Brief

The city's depleted financial condition prompted Romulus City Council last week to turn down an estimated $635 needed by the mayor to participate in the annual mayor's exchange day during Michigan Week this year.

Voting against the expenditure were Council President Mary Ann Banks and council members Junior Block and Gerry Canejo. Voting for the expenditure were council members Jimmie Raspberry and Richard Yeramian. Councilman Ray Cantrell abstained.

Should Mayor William M. Oakley be authorized to participate, he would have exchanged mayorships with the mayor of Charlotte, Mich., in Eaton County, southwest of Lansing.

Last year, Oakley was exchange mayor of Ludington, Mich.

The one club at Huron High School which is relatively unknown is Friends of the School. Friends of the School (FOTS) is made up of Huron High School students who give of their own time to sell refreshments at all chief home basketball games.

The money earned through refreshment sales goes toward school activities which need additional money. So far, the club has earned nearly $350 for the school year.

To become a member of Friends of the School, Huron High students must be willing to sacrifice their own time. New members are accepted every fall.

The following Huron students are members of Friends of the School: president, Todd Pershing; vice president, Tammy Martin; and members, Ann Althouse, Yvonne Gardner, Kenny Carter, Leslie Raker, Jill Richert.

The two people responsible for starting the club in 1971 were Mark Mittlestat and Joey Richert.

Parent-teacher conferences began yesterday at Huron High School and also will be held today from 1:45 to 2:40 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. at the school.

Since the end of the grade marking period will end April 3, report cards will not be given to students until April 23, said Jon W. Stevens, principal.

"From Sacrifice To Life" will be this year's theme for a joint Good Friday service being hosted by the North Prospect Baptist Church, 1400 North Prospect Road, Ypsilanti from 1:30 to 2:45 p.m.

The Emmanuel Baptist Church of Belleville and the Packard Road Baptist Church of Ann Arbor will co-sponsor this worship event along with the host church.

According to Rev. Brian K. Fujii, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church of Belleville: "The idea of sacrifice may not be as foreign a principle as we may think yet its intention, implication and application for the Christian believer is what we would like to examine during this brief time of worship."

The Rev. David Ray, pastor of North Prospect Baptist Church in Ypsilanti remarked: "Last year's service was well received by all those attending and feeling was expressed at that time that this should be an annual occasion." This year's service is in response to that request.

Dr. Michael Clingenpeel is the new pastor at Packard Road Baptist Church and will be speaking on the topic of how the sacrificial death of Christ results in real life for the individual believer.

The Good Friday service is open to everyone in the community.

Many students from Renton Junior High recently took part in a "Shamrock Collection" to help the fight against muscular dystrophy. A total of $467 was collected.

The Student Council sponsored a "Spring Fever" Dance on March 21 and added all monies from the dance to the $467 already collected.

When spring arrived at Miller Elementary School in New Boston on March 20 the children and teachers celebrated what is becoming a traditional event at the school — "Yellow Day."

On that day, the hallways and classrooms in the school were decorated with brightly colored student art projects and examples of their class work. Children and teachers either wore yellow or other brightly colored clothing.

The first grade class at the school had a special student art display for the parents. The Miller PTO provided yellow stickers for "happy faces" and Mrs. Irene Herrmann presented each of the staff members with fresh yellow flowers.

Superwalk '80, the largest fund raiser for the March of Dimes, is slated for April 20 at Belle Isle, Stony Creek Metropark and the Pontiac Silverdome.

Beginning at 8 a.m. at all locations, Superwalk is expected to draw more than 25,000 individuals in the largest walking event for charity in the country. Superwalkers secure sponsors who pledge so much a kilometer for the 32-kilometer course. The pledges are turned into contributions to assist the March of Dimes in its fight against birth defects. Registration is available by calling 863-3000.

Emanuel Steward along with Tommy Hearn, Hilmer Kenty and Mickey Goodwin, all champions, the Northern High School ROTC along with Clowns of America, disc jockeys from sponsoring station WDRQ and other stations, the Thane Cornell dancers and celebrities and sports figures will lead off Superwalk on Belle Isle and brighten the walk along the way. A giant 7-story hot-air balloon will greet walkers as they cross the Belle Isle Bridge.

Along with the fun and hoopla, the safety and comfort of the walkers is paramount in the minds of staff and volunteers. Poop out buses, first aid, foot car and a shuttle service will help to make the walk more pleasant for everyone. Vendors, a Superwalk sponsor, will supply free beverage to everyone along all routes. Rest areas and food will be available along the routes and walkers are encouraged to dress for the weather and their comfort.

Flyer buses to Belle Isle will be available from Northland, Eastland and Wonderland to the Casino at 6:45 a.m. and 7:45 a.m. A reservation is necessary and can be made by calling 863-

3000. They request $.75 exact change each way. There will be shuttle buses available from the Uniroyal Parking Lot at the foot of Belle Isle for those who drive.

Stony Creek will have its own bus service from Macomb County Community College's Student Center Parking Lot to Fisenhower High School. Information on all walks is available at 863-3000.

Know your laws

This is one in a series of public service articles explaining, in general terms, a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect on their private legal affairs should consult with a private attorney.

By ATT. GEN. FRANK KELLEY

Because of the national policy to convert to metric units of measure and the unprecedented rise in the price of oil, the Michigan consumer is now confronted with three different methods of pricing at the gasoline pump.

Gasoline may now be priced at the pump by the liter, which is slightly more than a quarter of a gallon, by the half gallon, as well as by the gallon.

When gasoline is sold by the liter three prices must be displayed on the pump. The total amount of the sale. The price per liter and the corresponding price per gallon. For example, a gasoline pump displaying a selling price of 30 cents a liter must also display the equivalent price, when computed in U.S. gallons, of $1.13.

Gasoline being sold at the pump by the half gallon is a direct result of the rapid increase in the cost of oil since older style gas pumps were unable to register prices above 99.9 cents a gallon. The continued use of such pumps is being allowed until such time as the necessary conversions to a new system can be made.

Pricing by the half gallon is permitted only when labels are affixed to both faces of the dispenser with letters and numerals of the same height and existing width of existing letters and numerals on the dispenser.

The unit price listed on the pump meter must be labeled "cents per half gallon". The amount of the sale represented on the pump must have the words immediately beneath it stating "half total sale" in addition to having a sign posted on top of the dispenser stating that the dispenser is temporarily computing by one-half gallon price and that the price represented on the dispenser face is one half the total price of the sale.

These regulations are designed to protect the consumer by clearly marking the amount of gasoline purchased and the per-unit price.

Treasurer wants to 'give' away money

Despite Wayne County's weak financial position, Treasurer Raymond J. Wojtowicz is looking to give money away—but he would rather not give it to the state treasury where it will be deposited by May, unless 93 private citizens show to collect an aggregate $50,000 rightfully theirs.

Wojtowicz has been holding the money and unsuccessfully searching for claimants for six years. Under state statute governing care and custody of unclaimed, uncalled for or abandoned property, the money must be turned over to the state after seven years.

The money belongs to people with no known address or other means for contact, Wojtowicz reports. He said they could be confined to nursing or convalescent homes and have no outside contact, or could have moved to another state without leaving a forwarding address except among relatives, close friends and immediate past neighbors.

"What a shame that these people stand to lose several hundreds of dollars simply because we don't know how to locate them. In several instances, the parties are owed several thousand of dollars," Wojtowicz said.

"I am hoping that some friend or relative of these people will read or hear of this situation, recognize some of the names involved, and alert them to what is about to happen," said Wojtowicz.

He emphasized that his office has no information on the deserving claimants other than just name and amount owed. Many of them are due the money because they are survivors of an estate, insurance beneficiaries or legatees awarded settlements through Probate Court, Wojtowicz explained.

The money could be owing on either tangible or intangible property and could include cash, stocks and bonds and other securities, bills of exchange, unclaimed wages, traveler's checks, outstanding personal checks and unclaimed certificates of deposit such as for gift certificates.

Wojtowicz is urging any person on the following list to contact him directly by calling 224-5950. With proper identification, the money will be turned over to them immediately. Wojtowicz said that others who think they know any person on the list should also call.

The list reads:
Ernest H. Bramigk, $40.33; Emma Sue Johnson, $150.61; Raymond Plewinski, $137.12; Jane Biglow, $161.05; Andrzej Bielski, $10,994.59; Peter Zupko, $1,825.59; William V. Adequate gasoline supplies may fuel state tourism rise

Adequate gasoline supplies should fuel a 6 percent increase in Michigan tourism during 1980, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Summer '80 should be a repeat of last year with motorists choosing closer-to-home vacation destinations," Leonard R. Barnes, editor of Michigan Living — AAA Motor News and member of the Michigan Travel Commission, told a meeting of Michigan's Transportation engineers in East Lansing.

"Michigan will capitalize on this trend not only because state residents will stay closer to home, but persons from bordering states will vacation here in lieu of longer trips."

One factor hurting tourism last spring and early summer which shouldn't affect motorists this year is the threat of gasoline shortages. "American gasoline consumption was down 11 percent in the past three months, putting reserves at record levels," Barnes said.

WHEREAS: The Wayne County Economic Development Corporation has begun a preliminary investigation of utilization of said property; and WHEREAS: Such a determination could prove beneficial to both governmental entities.
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that it does herewith set forth its endorsement of the activities of the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation, designed to identify beneficial utilization of the aforementioned property; with the ultimate hope that said identification and utilization be pursued.

80-092

4D. Motion by Yeramian, supported by Cantrell, to adopt Resolution 80-092:

RESOLUTION 80-092

WHEREAS: The City Council of the City of Romulus has been mandated by the citizens of said City to provide additional recreational facilities; and
WHEREAS: The City Council of the City of Romulus recognized the benefits which can be derived by individual citizens through their utilization of recreational facilities; and

WHEREAS: Said benefits are most often overlooked when a municipality attempts to quantify the benefits that the various services they offer provide the citizens of its community, in that said benefits are reflected primarily in physical fitness, but more significantly is a direct deterrent to crime, as said participation provides outlet for an innumerable number of anxieties; and
WHEREAS: The Michigan Department of Natural Resources through its Bureau of Outdoor Recreation has provided a plan for local municipalities through which on a 50-50 match basis financial assistance for acquisition and development of recreational facilities may be obtained; and

WHEREAS: The Citizens of the City of Romulus have need of outdoor recreational facilities which would increase participation in activities which provide an outlet for these anxieties; and
WHEREAS: The City of Romulus must seek financial assistance to develop said facilities.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that the City Council does herewith authorize the Mayor of said City to file pre-applications for the development of the Cypress Tot Lot, expansion of Elmer Johnson Park and Acquisition of Shady Hollow Golf Course.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes — Raspberry, Canejo, Yeramian, Cantrell, Rush, Banks. Nays — None. Motion carried.

80-094

5A1. Motion by Cantrell, supported by Canejo to adopt Resolution 80-094:

RESOLUTION 80-094

WHEREAS: Senate Bill No. 513, has been introduced and referred to the committee on State and Veteran Affairs, intended to require non-decision making Public Bodies to comply with the provisions of the Open Meetings Act insofar as they are applicable thereto; and

WHEREAS: Non-decision making committees referred to in the bill as bodies in every case are recommending vehicles utilized by the decision making public body necessitating public presentation of findings and-or recommendations dealing with the decision to be rendered by the public body; and

WHEREAS: These committees, referred to in the bill as bodies, customarily announce their meetings and do not preclude participation by the public and have no status in the organizational makeup of a municipality. There is no need in the belief of the City Council to legislate the additional expense associated with the notification process found in the Open Meetings Act.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that it does herewith relay its concern for Senate Bill No. 513 and request that said bill be reviewed in light of the foregoing.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be forwarded to Governor Milliken, Senator Faust, Representatives Mahalak and Owens, and surrounding communities.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes — Raspberry, Canejo, Cantrell, Yeramian, Banks, Abstain — Rush. Nays — None. Motion carried.

80-095

5B1. Motion by Rush, supported by Yeramian, to adopt Resolution 80-095:

RESOLUTION 80-095 GOVERNING BODY RESOLUTION APPROVING PROJECT PLAN Capac-Kasama Project

WHEREAS: There exists in the City of Romulus (the "Municipality") the need for certain programs to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemployment and to assist and retain local industries and commercial enterprises and to encourage the location of industries and commercial enterprises in order to strengthen and revitalize the economy of the Municipality and provide needed services and facilities to the Municipality and the residents thereof; and

WHEREAS: As one of its programs to alleviate the aforesaid conditions and accomplish said purposes, the Economic Development Corporation of the City of Romulus (the "Corporation") in conformity with Act 338, Michigan Public Acts, 1974, as amended ("Act 338"), has initiated proceedings with respect to the potential issuance of its limited obligation economic development revenue bonds to assist in the financing of the Project captioned in the title of this resolution; and

WHEREAS: The Corporation in conformity with Act 338 has prepared and submitted to the "Local Public Agency", as defined in Act 338 (i.e. "the official body of a municipality authorized to plan and implement the development and redevelopment of the municipality") and this governing body of the Municipality a Project Plan for the Project; and

WHEREAS: The Local Public Agency has reviewed the Project Plan and recommended approval of the Project Plan as submitted to this governing body of the Municipality a Project Plan for the Project; and

WHEREAS: In conformity with Act 338, this governing body of the Municipality has conducted a public hearing on the Project Plan;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

1. The Project Plan, as submitted and approved by the Corporation and recommended by the Local Public Agency in the form of Exhibit A, meets those requirements set forth in Section 8 of Act 338.

2. The persons who will be active in the management of the Project for not less than one year after approval of the Project Plan have sufficient ability and experience to manage the Plan properly.

3. The proposed method of financing the Project as outlined in the Project Plan is feasible and the Corporation has the ability to arrange the financing.

4. The Project is reasonable and necessary to carry out the purposes of the Act.

5. Based upon the information submitted and information obtained at the public hearing, the Project Plan as submitted and the Project serve to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemployment, strengthen and revitalize the Municipality's economy, encourage the location and expansion of enterprises in the Municipality and, therefore, constitutes and essential, vital and necessary public purpose.

6. All resolutions and parts of resolutions insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this resolution be and the same hereby are rescinded.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes — Raspberry, Canejo, Cantrell, Yeramian, Banks, Rush. Nays — None. Motion carried.

6. No Action

80-096

7A. Motion by Rush, supported by Yeramian, to Adopt Chapter 512 of the Romulus Code of Ordinances, an ordinance to regulate all above ground flammable liquid Storage Tanks being filled by pipelines. Roll call vote showing: Ayes — Canejo, Raspberry, Yeramian, Rush, Banks. Abstain — Cantrell. Nays — None. Motion carried.

80-097

7B. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Cantrell, to adopt Resolution 80-097:

RESOLUTION 80-097

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus has, pursuant to the advice and consolation of Burroughs Corporation representatives, specifically Robert Keegan, in September 1978, purchased a Burroughs B-80 Computer from Said corporation with a full knowledge and belief that said piece of equipment would accomplish prerequisite accounting reports; and

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus, in addition to the aforementioned, pursuant to the advice of Burroughs Corporation, purchased a maintenance agreement intended to provide a predetermined level of operational efficiency and to preclude costly delays while awaiting services; and

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus has been severely hampered, if not in fact, prevented from the implementation of predetermined programs, for which the B-80 was reportedly designed to handle, and certified to said City by the Corporation as being readily adaptable; and

WHEREAS: The Corporation has failed to provide in the first instance, sufficient support to enable the City to implement elementary programs, thereby, costing the City underterminable loss of time, money and service to its citizens and further, said company has failed to provide maintenance, as contracted for, to a level to begin to resemble that contained within the maintenance contract; and

WHEREAS: The City continues to hold the opinion that the B-80 has the capability for activities reported by the corporation in the first instance and are insistant upon the delivery of maintenance service contracted between the parties.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus, that it does herewith set forth its disappointment in the service received thus far from the Burroughs Corporation and implore, if not demand, that all of the aforementioned be corrected immediately.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That failure on the part of the corporation to immediately correct the aforementioned difficulties will be viewed by the City Council as a premeditated intention to disregard commitments made to the City in the corporation's initial intent to make the sale, and an implied expression of its intent to disregard conditions set forth in the maintenance contract, obligating the City to seek other remedies available thereto.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Chairman of the Board, President of Burroughs Corporation, Regional and-or District Manager, as applicable, Sales Manager and Salesman, and other personnel within and-or outside of Burroughs Corporation as may be determined by the Mayor of the City of Romulus.

Roll Call vote showing: Ayes — Raspberry, Canejo, Yeramian, Cantrell, Rush, Banks. Nays — None. Motion carried.

80-098

8. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Cantrell, that a letter of appreciation be sent Representative Mahalak, for his role and assistance in the sixty (60) day extension granted to the City of Romulus by the Wayne County Sheriff Department (road patrol). Roll call vote showing: Ayes — Raspberry, Canejo, Yeramian, Cantrell, Rush, Banks. Nays — None. Motion carried.

9A. No Action.

9B. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Rush, to direct a communication to the Colonel of the Michigan State Police Department and Governor William G. Milliken, of appreciation and thanks for past services rendered by the State Police Department in patrolling freeways within the City of Romulus, and express our interest in continued service when the state's financial position will allow same. Roll call vote showing: Ayes — Raspberry, Canejo, Yeramian, Cantrell, Rush, Banks. Nays — None. Motion carried.

9C. No Action.

9D. No Action.

Things that matter

Spiritualism and fraud

By GEORGE PLAGENZ
United Feature Syndicate

The spiritualist minister wanted to impress his congregation with the ability of departed spirits to protect entities on this plane of existence from harm.

He wrapped an empty glass in a handkerchief and smashed it against the side of the pulpit. There was the sound of glass shattering. The congregation gasped.

Then the minister opened the handkerchief to show the jagged pieces of glass to the congregation and popped a piece of glass into his mouth. He munched on it and swallowed it.

The people in the audience groaned. One woman fainted.

"Spirit protection," Rev. Lamar Keene assured them, "is a wonderful reality."

What the people didn't know was that, before the service, Keene had placed a dish containing ice inside the pulpit. What he was crunching on during his "amazing demonstration" was not glass, but a piece of ice!

Keene resorted to other tricks, equally as fraudulent during his 13 years as a successful spiritualist minister in Tampa, Fla.

An accomplice, for example, would pick the pockets of a member of the congregation. Several weeks then were allowed to elapse — enough time for the victim to miss the lifted item.

Later, during a seance, the "spirits" would return the stolen object to the grateful — and dumbfounded — person.

But how about the information — unknown to anybody but the person himself sitting for a seance — which the medium provides through a contact (or "guide") in the spirit world?

The secret of those "hits," says Keene, are spies — not spirits.

Mediums who comprise what Keene calls "the psychic mafia" keep files on "seance freaks" and swap their confidential items with other mediums.

Keene says he himself "made a habit of carrying a small notepad in my pocket and jotting down every casual remark which would provide me later with 'messages' from the spirit world."

"Rarely did I use such information soon after picking it up," he said. "The rule was to wait until the individual had forgotten everything about the conversation and then, out of the blue, spring on him during a seance some juicy morsel which he himself had provided."

How does Keene account for ectoplasm — the mysterious substance in which the spirits of the dead clothe themselves in order to appear in bodily, tangible form? Chiffon!

"The average person has no conception of how compressible chiffon is," says Keene.

"Enormous quantities of it can be wadded into a ball small enough for a man to hide in his undershorts. On occasion I have been searched down to my underwear and my contraband ectoplasm never found."

In the darkened seance room where he was all but invisible, Keene says he would unroll a ball of white chiffon and wind it around himself until it enveloped him. What the sitters thought he was seeing was a spirit materializing.

After 13 years of perpetrating such hoaxes, during which time he became rich and famous, Keene "sickened of the whole mess" and quit.

In a book, "The Psychic Mafia," he blasts the cover off the multimillion-dollar occult underworld.

This does not necessarily mean that there are no such things as spirits or a spirit world — or that "good mediums" don't exist.

Even if it did mean that, people probably would continue to believe in spirit manifestations.

"The average person is prone to overbelief," said Rev. William V. Rauscher in a foreword to Keene's book, "and is exceedingly easy to fool."

He refers to Minotti's opera, "The Medium," in which Madame Flora, the fake medium, admits she is a fraud.

But the believers won't give up their faith in her.

They clamor, "Please let us have one more seance, Madame Flora. This is the only joy we have in our lives. Let us have it once more, just once more."

The Upper Room

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2
Read John 17:20-23

"I pray that they may all be one ... May they be one, so that the world will believe that you sent me." (John 17:21)

I was invited to be in Kenya, Africa, to preach in evangelistic missions across the country. While there, my traveling companion and I were invited to have tea at the home of the lay leader, who was a farmer. For some time we shared the faith together. As it drew dark and shadows framed the man's face, he spoke through the pastor-interpreter: "These men do not talk as strangers; it is as if God is drying up the ocean and causing Africa and America to bump together."

The fellowship of the Christian Church cuts across the divisions, boundaries and fences that humanity is always erecting. Jesus prayed that by His spirit we may be one so that the mission and ministry of Christ can be accomplished in the world.

We need the involvement of the whole church around the world. As we move in the 1980s, we do so knowing that the church throughout the world is in the ministry of making disciples of the Christ.

PRAYER: O God, pour out Your spirit upon us that we may be faithful in the ministry of making disciples throughout the world, in Christ's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: How am I making disciples of Christ in my community and around the world?

H. Eddie Fox, Tennessee

Church choir sings 'No Greater Love'

The 24-voice choir of Bethany Baptist Church of Belleville will present John W. Patterson's cantata, "No Greater Love", at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Church, located at 810 E. Huron River Drive, near the eastern city limits of Belleville.

The production will be directed by Doyle Wise, with Fred Baditoni doing the narration. Biblical scenes, utilizing colored slides, will be presented corresponding with each musical section of the production. Kevin Losen will be in charge of the orchestrated sound system, which will feature special effects during the Crucifixion portion of the musical.

There is no admission charge and the public is extended a cordial invitation by The Rev. John Losen and his congregation.

SHOULD THE CASKET BE OPEN OR CLOSED?

This question can only be answered by the family, very seldom by the funeral director. There are several options to be considered by the family.

The casket can be open during the hours of visitation and closed during the final rites or it can remain open during the final rites. It can also remain closed at all times.

Modern psychologists tell us viewing the deceased helps the family to accept the fact of death, especially when it may have been sudden or unexpected. If, however, the appearance of the deceased cannot be made acceptable, viewing may possibly be harmful. The customs of the family's faith and the influence of their clergyman's thoughts may help determine what is to be done.

The family's own wishes on the desired procedure will always be the guideline for the funeral director at our firm. We respect the family's wishes on all particulars of the funeral service as we try our very best to provide a truly personal and meaningful service.

MSU students use love of skiing to help handicappers

Robert Tillotson of Romulus and Jerome Switch of Wayne are using their love of skiing to help handicapped students overcome their disabilities.

Tillotson and Switch, seniors at Michigan State University, are volunteers in a therapeutic recreation program for handicapped students from the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing.

Each Wednesday, from December through March, MSU students and other volunteers assist 46 handicapped children and young adults, ages 7-26, in learning downhill and cross country skiing.

Winter sports are important to the handicapped students, said Debra Stuart, therapeutic recreation director at MSB, because of the lack of activities for them during the cold weather. Participation in sports can help them learn to enjoy the winter months, she said, and, if their families ski, can provide them with an activity the whole family can enjoy.

The techniques used in teaching the students to ski are based on those used in two blind skiing program, BOLD (Blind Outdoor Leisure Development), a downhill program, and Ski for Light, a cross country program.

Blind students are not the only ones taking part in the MSB ski program. Students with other handicaps also participate.

Although an MSB therapeutic recreation representative is present at each ski outing, it is the volunteers who really make the program available to the students, Stuart said.

"The volunteers are able to see improvements in the students' agility, confidence, self-image and social awareness," she said. "It is a chance for the volunteers to make a difference for someone else."

Tillotson, majoring in medical technology at MSU, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tillotson of Prescott. He is a 1976 graduate of Huron High School.

Switch, a zoology major, is the son of Mrs. Helen Marcic. He is a 1976 graduate of Schafer High School in Southgate.

Motion by Canejo, supported by Raspberry, that the request from KBL Corporation for transfer ownership of 1979 Class C licensed business with Dance Permit, located at 27409 Goddard Road, Romulus, Michigan, 48174, from Hassan Beydoun and Tala El-Award be recommended for approval to the Liquor Control Commission. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Canejo, Raspberry, Yeramian, Banks. Nays - None. Motion carried.

80-071

6A3. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Canejo, to postpone action on the reimbursement of overpayment in taxes on property purchased from Mr. & Mrs. Scott in 1974; pending review of tax bill (as to years of exemption) by the City Attorney and the City Council. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Block, Yeramian, Canejo, Banks. Nays - None. Motion carried.

80-072

6A4. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Block, to adopt Resolution 80-072:

RESOLUTION 80-072

WHEREAS: Numerous serious incidents involving petroleum tank farms and double bottom tankers necessitated the Governor of the State of Michigan to establish the Hazardous Materials Division (hereinafter the "Division"), whose responsibility was to ensure that hazardous materials handlers and haulers operate in compliance with state rules and regulations; and

WHEREAS: The Division, through its inspection program, has contributed to a 75 percent decrease in incidents and deaths caused principally by non-compliance with state rules and regulations; and

WHEREAS: It has been brought to our attention that said Division is presently in the process of disbandment; an act which will result in the following unacceptable situations:

- A. All inspection and enforcement would fall under the jurisdiction of the respective local governing units, and
- B. Local governing units' Fire Department personnel are not trained in the inspection of these hazardous materials haulers, special training would have to be implemented; and

WHEREAS: These situations would result in both an added expense to local governing units (from the probable increase in personnel and subsequent training expense), and potential increase in the loss of lives and property, as a direct result of non-enforcement of safety rules and regulations, during the period 'Divisions' on the local level are being established.

80-073

6A5. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Yeramian, to adopt Resolution 80-073:

RESOLUTION 80-073

WHEREAS: Senator G. Hart has introduced Senate Bill No. 769, a bill to provide for the annual return of ten percent (10 percent) of the money transferred to the State General Fund from the total sales of lottery tickets in each County in the State of Michigan, to the County where the sales took place; and

WHEREAS: The Cities of said Counties are currently experiencing financial crisis, to say the least; and

WHEREAS: These Cities are also participants in the distribution, processing and implementation of the sale of lottery tickets; and in that respect contributors thereof; and

WHEREAS: The sale of lottery tickets cannot exist, and would be both ineffective and unprofitable without the participation of the Cities therein.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that the City of Romulus recognizes the need for additional income within the Counties of the State of Michigan; but feels that a means should be sought whereby contributing Cities would be inclusive in the return of money from the sale of lottery tickets

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That copies of this Resolution be forwarded to Governor William G. Milliken, Senator Faust, State Representative Edward E. Mahalak and Gary Owen, and all surrounding communities.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Canejo, Block, Yeramian, Banks. Nays - None. Motion carried.

Rupert completes his Marine recruit training

Marine Pvt. Jackson W. Rupert, the son of Jackson and Florence F. Rupert of Moore Street, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Marine Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival and was introduced to the daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill.

A 1976 graduate of Romulus Senior High School, he joined the Marine Corps in November 1978.

Also in the armed forces: Airman Richard P. Creith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Creith of Kozma, Belleville, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

Navy Seaman Dean E. Jessie, the son of William E. and Rosemary Jessie of Belle Road, New Boston, is currently on a deployment in the Indian Ocean.

He is a crewmember aboard the destroyer USS David R. Ray homeported in San Diego, and operating as a unit of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

His ship is part of a Carrier Battle Group comprised of various 7th Fleet units deployed to the Indian Ocean in response to the turmoil in Iran. Thus far in the cruise, his ships has participated in several training exercises and visited in port cities of Far Eastern countries.

A 1979 graduate of Huron High School, Jessie joined the Navy in October 1976.

Jerry S. Falconer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Falconer of Lauren Court, Belleville, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of airman first class.

Airman Falconer is an automatic flight control systems specialist at RAF Alconbury, here.

The airman is a 1975 graduate of Belleville High School.

Marine Pfc. Wendell H. Buckley, the son of Marie Buckley of Hunt Street, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

During the 10½-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1977 graduate of Romulus High School, he joined the Marine Corps in November 1979.

Airman Kenneth R. Lee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee of Huron, River Drive, Romulus has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the vehicle maintenance field.

Airman Lee is a 1975 graduate of Annapolis High School, Dearborn Heights.

EMU hikes student fees

Orientation registration fees for new students were increased from $10 to $15 and a $25 fee for overnight orientation programs was raised to $40 by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents at its regular monthly meeting March 19.

The new orientation fees, effective immediately, bring university costs in line with increases in room and board rates, publication costs and student help fees which have increased since Eastern's present orientation fees were established in 1976.

According to a rationale for the increase, prepared by the Student Affairs Division at EMU, room and board rates have increased by 35 percent, publication costs by 54 percent and student help by 37 percent since 1976. A survey of similar colleges and universities in Michigan indicates that the new EMU orientation fees will be competitive with other state programs.

New students at Eastern are encouraged, but not required to attend new student orientation conferences. Orientation programs have been designed to meet the needs of specific student population groups, including freshmen-transfer students, adult returning students, international students and graduate students.

Bureau to do job interviews

Representatives of the U.S. Bureau of Census will be contacting area households the week of April 12 as part of a special survey aimed at improving national employment estimates.

Interviewers will ask questions about employment, occupation, and related information such as age, sex, and marital status. The survey is authorized by law under Title 13, U.S. Code. All information provided to interviewers will be held strictly confidential.

Individuals in any household cannot be identified, since the data are used only to prepare statistical summaries.

Tourism:

"Barring an unforeseen disruptions in the Mideast oil supply, people should be able to drive anywhere they'd like this summer as long as they can afford it."

A recent survey of 4,546 Auto Club members shows that 30 percent cancelled out-of-state travel plans during 1979. Of that group, 60 percent cited the high price of gasoline and 40 percent feared insufficient supplies.

"A great number of tourists are postponing their 'round-the-world' dream vacations for resort areas within a tankful of gas," Barnes said. "Fortunately for Michiganders, this state has so much to offer-literally thousands of campgrounds, lakes, streams, resort areas and tourist attractions within a 250-mile radius.

"In addition, $375 million in lodging space accounting for more than 7,000 motel and hotel rooms is planned or set to open in Michigan by the end of 1981, further enhancing this state's reputation as a major tourism and convention center."

Tourism spending is expected to increase $540 million in 1980. In 1979, it generated more than $9 billion with $5.1 billion in direct income to tourism operators.

Tourism is Michigan's second largest industry behind automobiles.

Higher taxes may signal need to add to home insurance

Mixing the bitter with the sweet, increased property tax bills in many communities are a reminder to property owners that their home investment continues to increase in value.

Despite a recent easing from the rapid rate of increased home prices, national statistics indicate the value of homes purchased 10 years ago have risen 124 percent. Thus, a home purchased for $28,000 in 1970 might command $63,000 in today's market depending on location, condition and other factors.

However, many owners have not increased their home insurance coverage at the same pace, according to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR).

"In a high percentage of cases, the insurance is paid by the company holding the mortgage from the homeowner's escrow funds," said John J. Halser, WWOCBR president. "When the homeowner receives an annual statement of the mortgage account, it often indicates a pending escrow shortage and the need for a higher monthly payment due to increased property taxes. Naturally, the owners want to keep these payments as low as possible, so they continue with the same insurance coverage year after year."

He pointed out that if a fire or windstorm destroyed the home, the face value on the policy would be the maximum amount paid. If it does not reflect the increased value, much of the extra equity in the home would be lost.

"In a sense, the owner places a price tag on the home every time the policy comes up for renewal," he said. "At such times, it's a good idea to consider what it would cost to restore the home or buy another of comparable space, quality and location."

"Anyone who recently has contracted for home improvements or purchased building materials for do-it-yourself projects likely realizes that these prices, like other construction costs, are continuing to rise. This is one of the reasons existing home values are growing."

He advises homeowners to determine the fair market value of their home, excluding the non-combustible foundation structure and building lot. This, plus appropriate amounts for furnishings and other valuables, should be a determinant in deciding the amount of insurance coverage needed at renewal time.

Halser notes that an increase in policy coverage does not necessarily mean a sizable increase in premium. There are ways to counter the added coverage to help keep costs down.

One way might be to take a higher deductible. While this will lower the collectible amount in case of a loss, it also can mean a substantial saving in premium expenditure.

Rates vary among insurance companies, so it never hurts to shop around and compare prices for the desired coverage," the WWOCBR president said. "But services also should be a consideration. How fast will the company respond to a claim, for example, and how involved are the procedures? Compare notes with friends and neighbors on their experience with various companies."

"Check with your present agent, or prospective new companies on what risk-reducing devices, such as smoke detectors or burglar alarm systems, might provide a premium break."

4A. Motion by Yeramian, supported by Canejo, to adopt Resolution 80-081:

WHEREAS: The Board of Wayne County Commissioners are expected to request in the near future that a question be submitted in 1980 to the electorate of Wayne County on the subject of establishment of a Charter for Wayne County, and to establish Wayne County as a Charter County under law; and

WHEREAS: The Wayne County Apportionment Commission will be required by law to establish single-member districts based on the latest census for the election of Charter Commissioners; and

WHEREAS: The latest complete federal decennial census is that taken in 1970; and

WHEREAS: The 1970 census does not reflect the actual total or the actual distribution of population within Wayne County in 1980; and

WHEREAS: The use of the 1970 census data to establish single-member Charter Commission districts is a violation of the "one man-one vote" apportionment principle announced by the United States Supreme Court.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the Common Council of the City of Romulus does hereby request and urge the Wayne County Apportionment Commission to exercise its statutory authority under Section 5 of Public Act 293 of 1966, as amended, to petition the Michigan Court of appeals for a stay of time within which to complete the apportionment of election districts until after the results of the 1980 federal decennial census are available, in order to provide the citizens of Wayne County equal protection under the law; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That this Council will petition the appropriate courts to review any plan of election districts for Charter Commissioners proposed by the Wayne County Apportionment Commission that does not fully comply with the "one man-one vote" principle of law as promulgated by the decisions of the United States Supreme Court.

7C. Motion by Raspberry, supported by Block, to adopt Resolution 80-087:

RESOLUTION 80-087

WHEREAS: Heretofore all communities in the County of Wayne have supported a single agency, "Wayne County Area Agency on Aging" to shoulder the primary responsibility for providing aid to our senior residents; and

WHEREAS: The City Council of the City of Romulus has over the years been very pleased, at minimum, with the service rendered by said agency; and

WHEREAS: It is the studied opinion of the Romulus City Council that the dismantling of the Wayne County Area Agency on Aging Commission is a disastrous mistake; one which it appears, none-the-less, is inevitable in view of the position taken by the Mayor of the City of Detroit, in his pursuit of an agency to handle only Detroit residents; and

WHEREAS: Funding for such an agency is derived exclusively through population data, and Mayor Young has assumed a posture which would assure the retention of control in the office of the Mayor, notwithstanding, the obvious trend in population shifts; and

WHEREAS: Individual communities in Western Wayne County can ill-afford to independently continue present levels of service provided by the Wayne County Area Agency on Aging without uniting to create an agency which will represent all of our citizens collectively; developing an agency which will be in a complimentary position to compete with the City of Detroit.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that it does herewith set forth its support of the creation of an Out-County Area Agency on Aging Commission.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be forwarded to Governor Milliken, Senator Faust, Representatives Mahalak and Owens, and surrounding communities.

A salute to our Rotarians

Rotary International's 75th Anniversary

A milestone has been reached in Rotary International history and Frank Sladen, Jr., District Governor (above) was on hand at Belleville to offer some of his thoughts to his colleagues and their guests. He stressed the Rotary Creed; "Service to Community," credo for every civic-minded person.

They came from near and from far to commemorate a milestone in Rotary history....

The milestone was the Rotary International's 75th anniversary.

Local as well as area Rotarians, along with their guests and friends, flocked to Belleville High School to hear James L. Bomar, Jr., president of Rotary International, tell them: "What Difference Can One Person Make?"

And, the note was obvious — that all the "ones" together make a world of difference. That the Rotary message of goodwill and cooperation, of "Service to the Community" is a creed that all of us should share.

William Pike served as master of ceremonies for this momentous occasion and the Rev. Joy Arthur gave the invocation. Music was provided by the Belleville High School Symphony Band and combined choirs.

Chairman for the 75th anniversary was Don Juchartz, while Mr. Bomar was introduced to the guests and Rotary members by Douglas Brown, President of Belleville Rotary Club.

The message came out loud and clear when James L. Bomar, Jr., President of Rotary International (above) addressed local and area Rotarians last week at Belleville High. He rhetorically asked: "What Difference Can One Person Make?" The answer was obvious—plenty.

Ted Penszynski, President of the Harper Woods Rotary Club, presents an insignia of appreciation and memento to James L. Bomar, Jr., in commemoration of the Rotary International President's recent visit and lecture in Belleville.

Doug Brown, president of the Belleville Rotary Club, accepts for the local club members the coveted 3-H Rotary banner from James L. Bomar, Jr., president of Rotary International. The presentations occurred during last Tuesday's ceremonies at Belleville High School.

Exchanging thoughts and smiles are Douglas B. Brown and his wife, Florence, during the ceremonies that brought together scores of local, area and national Rotary Club members at Belleville High.

Rotary means family for the Juchartzes—Don, his wife, Doris, and daughter Debra who provided the music for the evening. Don also served as chairman for the 75th Anniversary Committee.

Editorial opinions

Hiding behind fictitious names

A member of the Wayne-Westland Board of Education came to us the other day with a concern. Fred Warmbier, the trustee, presented a problem shared by this and almost every newspaper. There are people out there in readershipland that hide behind fictitious names. Apparently there was one such incident recently when a Len Grant wrote on these pages and criticized the Wayne-Westland school system.

Grant pointed out that the recent exodus of well-qualified educators to other school districts, apparently was the beginning of the end of a fine school system. He also stated that he was a teacher in the Wayne-Westland schools. No such name turns up in personnel lists of records, according to school officials.

Nonetheless "Grant's" letter and his criticism was on these pages for everyone to read.

"I have an expressed concern about the validity and the comments made by the letterwriter," Warmbier said. "I would like to speak to this person personally. He can contact me at my home or he can contact any member of our board of education — I'm sure all of us are sincerely concerned about his comments.

"And I also am wondering how the newspapers go about checking the facts of people who write you? Do you have a system?" Warmbier asks.

Most newspapers don't. We accept letters on the basis that the writer has something of value and pertinence to say to the community. We ask for addresses and telephone numbers to check verification, but, as anyone who has worked or been associated with newspapers knows — most of these letters will wind up in print if they are not libelous.

Warmbier went on to say, "that we have heard this comment (that teachers are leaving and unqualified people are filling the ranks) in rumor form, but it has never come out in the open.

"And all of this mobility — administrators taking jobs in other school districts — is not actually bad. These people have moved up — it's an upward movement.

"I hope that the person who wrote the letter will contact us — and we promise to keep his identity a secret — so that we can discuss and resolve any problems," Warmbier added.

And so do we.

To our readers:

The Associated Newspapers welcomes letters from its readers. We urge the writers, however, to try to keep the letters brief and to the point. Letters must be signed and the writer's name will be withheld only if a good reason is presented. Please address your letters to: TO THE EDITOR, Associated Newspapers, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Michigan 48184.

AMERICA HELD HOSTAGE

*Fifty of our countrymen
Are held for being spies.
Accused by Iran's Khomeini
Of grossly telling lies.*

*They barter them for ransom
Till we return their Shah.
Their students trained by Russia
To disregard the law.*

*Some are held for trial
For espionage conviction
Or any other trumped up charge
In calculated fiction.*

*We're not their monarch's keeper,
And we'll not keep their demand.
How long shall time stretch patience
Till we finally call their hand?*

*We've met with every option
In their thrust of insurrection,
Straining the diplomacy
And pride of our great nation.*

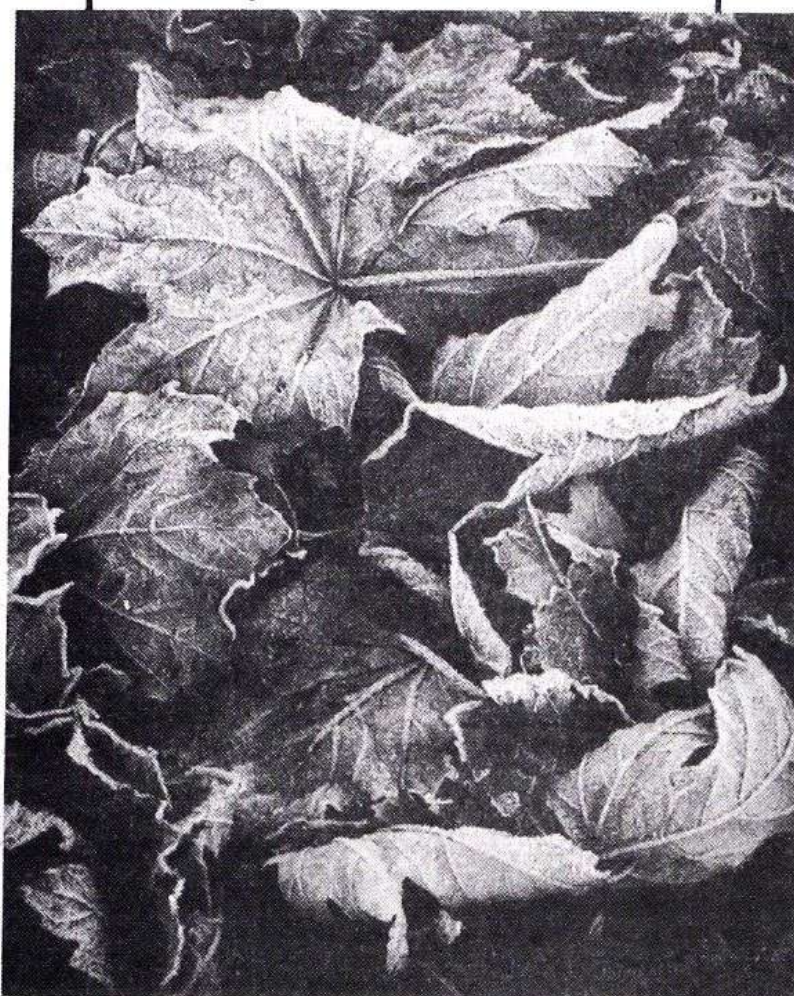

*We call upon our allies
As we're all accounted for,
To negotiate a crisis
Than to wage a mighty war.*

Alcoholism is 'big business'

Your recent editorial opinions article entitled "A Tragedy: Cutting Beds at Hospital" was shocking to say the least.

For sure, the next person needing an emergency hospital could very well be me or my loved ones.

Your article disturbs me though beyond that point of self concern.

What really troubles me is what can the lowly taxpayer do about it?

Just recently, your newspaper was credited with uncovering the fraudulent and illegal operations within CUFA for which I am very thankful.

That is why I am writing you now, maybe you can do something about this problem too.

If you really want to find the answers (or some of them) to the "bed-cutting" at hospitals, you could start an effective search for the answers to "why" by starting close to home.

Take a good look at the PCHA hospitals, and ask for answers to some of the following questions: 1) How many drug-alcohol patients are admitted under the diagnosis of "depressive neurosis?"

2) Why are so many admitted under this diagnosis? (It's magic, it will get you in a lot faster than a stroke or heart attack;

3) Why are these patients given immediate attention and admittance? (Records will prove this.);

4) What percentage are repeaters? 4, 5 and even 6 times within a year at one hospital. Then, they can be readmitted at another hospital (Records prove this.);

5) How much money does alcoholism cost the taxpayer? Hospital records and Blue Cross records will show it is becoming (if not now) the biggest money-making business as far as doctors, hospitals, therapy programs and B.C. is concerned.

But look who's paying for it!

Oh sure, the hospitals and Blue Cross will tell you alcoholism is a "disease" as proclaimed by the health industry itself. Isn't that convenient? They'll even tell you alcoholism is the same as diabetes — that you are born with it. (Go ahead and ask that question).

While you're at it, find out what it costs the taxpayers when a patient is admitted for alcoholism or "depressive neurosis" right from the time of admittance through psychological and/or psychiatric testing, mental health occupancy (sometimes 30 or more days) therapy treatment, doctor's fees, consultations, drugs, (that's a whole new can of worms as the patients are often sent home not only uncured of alcoholism but now cross addicted to another drug. (The records will prove this too.) And oh yes, there is counseling and even marriage counseling.

Not only are these costs incurred as inpatients, but many of them as outpatients as well.

Now, is it any wonder the hospital, doctors and BC costs are soaring. They're all wrapped up in this "big business" called alcoholism.

How will they ever be able to change any of it when, to do so, they will be admitting their wrong doing and guilt.

Have a friend (one who works for one of the auto companies) call Blue Cross and ask how he can get into the hospital for alcohol or drug treatment and (2) how long he can stay, (3) how many total days can be stay in the hospital in a year. Ask too, how much out-patient treatment he is entitled to under BC.

Well, you've got the ball in your court now. Let's see what your paper can do about it. I know I'm powerless as I'm only one!

Fingers flip through consumer tips

Michigan Bell's 1980-81 West-Northwest Area telephone directories, to be distributed to customers beginning March 31, have been expanded to provide more consumer information to help customers save money.

Haze Wilson, Michigan Bell local manager, said the new expanded directory is in response to customer requests for more information about numerous basic and optional telephone company services.

"Much of the information in the customer guide pages in the front of the new directory is designed specifically to help consumers save money," Wilson said.

The directory contains a new page to aid customers in better understanding and interpreting charges and other billing information printed on their telephone bills as well as a new page listing long distance information and the most economical times to call Canada, Alaska and Hawaii, he said.

"The consumer information pages have been well received by customer in other cities," Wilson

Political suicide

By TOM MOORADIAN
Acting Managing Editor

There are a lot of ways to commit political suicide. Former Michigan Governor George Romney did it with words. Do you remember his "I was brainwashed" statement? That apparently led to Romney's demise during the Presidential Campaign of 1968.

Then, of course, some people like U.S. Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich.) and Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa.) learned that if they can't beat inflation, they have control over other sources. Diggs, if you recall, was recently convicted in federal court of mail fraud and receiving kickbacks from salaries of his congressional employees.

Flood has been in federal court, arguing that he is innocent of taking bribes. A retrial has been set in that case after the seasoned politician became ill.

And then there is that very ancient way of destroying one's political career. Women. Attractive ones. You remember the case of U.S. Rep. Wayne Hayes, who served as House Appropriations Committee Chairman.

And while he wasn't pre-occupied about the financial state of the union, he kept a secretary who didn't know one pica from another. One of Hayes' colleagues in Congress, Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, also got in a heap of trouble for hanging around a gorgeous stripper, Fannie Fox.

Then there is — and was — Chappaquiddick.

Most of these well-publicized events and people came out of political saunas created by intrigue. And most have slipped back into their rightful niches of obscurity.

So, when a caller yesterday informed me that, "What the hell are our local representatives doing, voting for Coleman Young's Folly?" the words hit as a jackhammer against a wall. Reps. Tom Brown (D-Westland), Ed Mahalak (D-Romulus) and Gary Owen (D-Ypsilanti) did, indeed, vote to approve a House resolution which paved the way for financing a preliminary study for a subway in Detroit in an area which has become known as the Woodward Corridor.

One of the callers went as far as to say that Brown cast the decisive vote in that resolution. Actually it was Democrat James O'Neill of Saginaw who is given that dubious honor. O'Neill switched his vote and gave the resolution the 55th vote it needed to pass.

But you read all about that in other newspapers.

Why would suburban representatives vote for a Detroit subway? And, by giving the plan their vote of approval, were they not actually committing political suicide?

"I don't think so," said Rep. Brown. "People tend to forget that we voted for a total transportation package in which the subway is an integral part. And we did this to qualify for $1.5 billion in federal monies.

Brown stressed that the preliminary study approved by the house "is not just for the subway, but for the entire three-county plan."

"The subway is the focal point," Brown continued, "A transportation system that doesn't allow or permit an individual to go where he or she would like to go is not really a complete transportation system.

"Hopefully, the intent of the SEMTA (Southeastern Michigan Transit Authority) plan is to create total and balanced public transportation for the Southeastern Michigan area.

"And all of these programs (transportation plans) have been aired at public meetings," Brown continued, "and people had an opportunity to express their views and opinions then. What I think has happened is that too much accent has been put on the subway and not on informing the people about the total transportation package."

What will the SEMTA package eventually mean for and to this area?

Here's representative Brown:

"In the overall transportation package, if it becomes a reality, there will have to be commuter train stops at stations to service our area. We're talking about stations at Belleville Road, or in Canton or Wayne and Dearborn — the experts will tell us where.

"And, you know, we think about commuter trains as vehicles taking people back-and-forth to destinations. But think about the service it will provide in the realm of education. College students would like to live at home and commute. We have the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti and in Detroit there is Wayne State, University of Detroit, the Detroit College of Law — these institutions and their students and faculty would make it desirable to have commuter trains.

"When we think of our area we think about what we do have presently — the dial-a-rides ... the Nankin Transit Authority which is a local entity — whose existence depends upon SEMTA funds. With the approval of the total transportation package, these improvements will be and are guaranteed," Brown said.

He sure doesn't sound like a man who is attempting to commit political suicide, does he?

EDITOR: Too many times we forget to thank the people behind the scene — the very ones we should never forget.

One person that immediately comes to mind is Bill Hawley, the Athletic Director of Wayne Memorial High School.

Bill's dream was to give every boy and girl the chance to play and learn the game of basketball with the possibility that they would (have the opportunity to) develop into future athletes.

Two years ago, aided by the cooperation of the City of Wayne Recreation Department, he formed an instructional basketball league for grades third thru seventh.

Mr. Hawley is the backbone of the league, from securing practice gyms early in the season to opening the gyms every Saturday and preparing them for the games. His work is endless, he buys the uniforms, becomes a referee when one needs to be replaced, and this year, took over a team when one coach had to quit because of job commitments.

Bill even thought of the idea of hiring Wayne Memorial's basketball players as referees so they could see the other side of basketball. And what a good job those young men do!

Bill and his coaches got together and came up with one league of third, fourth and fifth graders and one league of sixth and seventh graders. Each youngster is placed on a team by their ability, this way each team starts off equal and evenly balanced with talent.

In an exciting last game of the season with the first place team, a sixth grader, Jimmy Kolodziej, showed an example of this growth. With the score of 71-45, he scored 30 of the 71 points in a 20 minute play period, had 5 assists and several steals. You could say he had one fine game! Another example, Terry Mills averaged 20 points a game this season, and the Johnson brothers were nothing less than formidable on the court. Down in the younger league Ricky Brown was making baskets from mid court to the crowd's amazement, and Bill's son Steve had a successful year of ball handling that pleased everyone who watched.

Next year, I'm sure Bill would like to see even more youngsters coming out for basketball. So, come on Wayne parents, remember, a city is only as good as its citizens' participation! (There were only 100 youngsters in this year's program).

Thanks to Bill, Wayne Memorial High School can look forward to many prepared, knowledgeable athletes for its basketball program in the years to come. And on behalf of all the parents involved in this year's program.

Thank you

EDITOR: On March 25, the Westland Civitans hosted a charity basketball game between the Westland Sparks, and the Detroit Lions at Wayne Memorial High School.

As chairperson of this event I would like, on behalf of the Civitans, to publicly acknowledge some of the people who made this program possible.

All of those wonderful merchants who even in bad times still were able to listen to our requests for help in printing a souvenir program and assisted our club by buying advertising space.

We will be unable to extend to each and every one of you a "THANK YOU" but we appreciate your assistance.

To Harold Rediske Jr., of Uht Memorial Funeral Home, for the printing of our tickets; to Dennis Connelly of Wayne Memorial High School, for allowing me each day to change our request for items needed at the school when he had far more important duties as a school administrator to perform; to Clifford Cape, and his maintenance staff that performed their normal superior job, but also assisted our club early in the evening in other matters that were not part of their duties.

To all of the kids and parents that found time to come to our game, and especially the kids who found their fondest wishes being realized with an autograph from a Spark, or a Lion.

To the Westland Sparks, and in particular to Vice President Mike Mushett, and coach Bud Rumble.

Thanks also to the Detroit Lions who were a vital part of this memorable evening. All of you have allowed our group to once again serve our Community.

Red Cross

EDITOR: Thank you for your help in letting the community know about our need for blood donations in the past several months. It was deeply appreciated.

With your assistance, we were able to continue to provide blood to hospitals to meet their needs for the sick and injured and to maintain a normal surgery schedule.

Sparks

EDITOR: Please allow me just a few lines to take the opportunity to thank the people publicly for their support of the Westland Sparks Bingo fund raiser.

The bingo netted a profit of $1800 that will go towards the Sparks travel expenses for the National Tournament to be held in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Without this money the Sparks would have been in deep financial trouble and possibly would have been unable to defend their national crown.

However, because of the generosity shown by the citizens, the Sparks hope to bring to the City of Westland a 7th National Championship.

In closing a special thanks should go to the Wayne Ford Civic League, who put this Bingo fund raiser on for the Sparks. The generosity that they showed was above and beyond the call of duty.

Bouquet

EDITOR: With so many dissatisfied people and so much criticism aimed at hospitals and nursing homes, I want this bouquet of appreciation to be printed in your paper.

As a patient and friend and relative of other patients at Wayne County General Hospital I have nothing but praise for this clean and courteous hospital.

We have been treated quickly and courteously by doctors, nurses and staff. They show great compassion and you are treated as a human being and not just a case number.

I think "more honor to who honor is due" should be given to more public places. If we have less criticism and praise, this world would be a better place to live.

To Wayne County General Hospital, "Thank you for a job well done."

Disgusted

EDITOR: I have been disgusted with the Wayne Eagle for a long time, so it's about time I let you know why. Here are a few beefs I have with it.

The paper I assume, is supposed to be concerned with local happenings and local people, as well as entertainment, sports, etc. You fall short in coverage.

Example: Three of my friends and myself participated in a Gong Show at Wayne Memorial High School hosted by Dick Purtan. The Eagle was on the ball again with excellent (?) coverage. We won first place! So the photographer took pictures of the winners. We all rushed out and bought several copies, anxious to see our pictures in the paper. There were pictures of the second and third place winners on the front page. Then, the reporters did their fine reporting by not even printing our names.

Example 2: The Country Music field comes to town. Merle Haggard performs at the new Michigan Opry! We want to bring people into town again, help a new business, right? In comes the Wayne Eagle, right? WRONG! Not one word except he would be appearing March 8. No write-up after the show. No picture, nothing. You must have needed the space to print the scores of the Ladies Auxiliary Bridge Club.

I don't imagine this letter will do any good, but maybe, just maybe, you could try to improve it.

On the brighter side

How to be a successful person

Few high school basketball coaches have had success in the past six years like Darrell Pursiful of Highland Park.

The soft-spoken gentleman from Kentucky led his Polar Bears to the state championship in 1975 behind the hot-shooting of Terry "Sweet Due" Duerod, who now plays for the Detroit Pistons.

Then in succession, Highland Park went to the regional finals in 1976, to the quarter-finals in both 1977 and 1979, to the semi-finals in 1978 and this year the Parkers lost in the state championship game to Lansing Eastern. The Parkers were the ones who beat Clarkston and Tim McCormick in the state semi-finals to end their 26-0 streak.

And to think that the 5-foot-11 "coaching giant" could just as easily have coached in this area. He has lived in Westland for years and was interviewed by Inkster Cherry Hill High School when he first migrated to Michigan from Kentucky 15 years ago.

However, he chose Highland Park High School because they also offered his teaching wife, Nola, a job in the same building with him in 1965. He was also offered a job at Cherry Hill High School then, but his wife would have had to teach in a separate building and the young married couple wanted to be together. Lincoln Park also gave the 29-year-old Kentuckian an interview in 1965, but he chose Highland Park and the rest is history.

But let's go back and trace the history of this highly respected "White Shadow" coach who handles a top-flight program at a high school that is 98 percent black.

DARRELL PURSIFUL

The pudgy, 44-year-old Pursiful, whose suit coat button strains from his ample girth, says "Yes sir" and "No sir" as a matter of habit to his interviewer. He just turned 44 on March 26 and says he has no plans to retire — he's having too much fun!

He got his first taste of high school basketball in the rural areas of Kentucky where he played for Lone Jack High School, which had 100 kids in grades 7-12. Darrell was a starting guard for three years but his basketball team never got past the districts in the state playoffs.

He coached at Brandenburg, Ky. — Meade County High School — for five years with much success. But in 1963, he was head basketball coach and head baseball coach with six years experience and a master's degree, making only $5,200 a year. He went into selling life insurance to make more money, but soon became disillusioned and wanted to get back into coaching.

"I called my aunt, Lena Robbins, in Garden City and she arranged three interviews at Cherry Hill, Highland Park and Lincoln Park," Pursiful recalled. "All three schools treated us well, but Highland Park offered us the best opportunity and we chose to go there."

Pursiful, a devout Christian, who attends Middlebelt Road Baptist Church in Inkster, believes God has directed his steps, even when the talented coach wasn't aware of it. "My early life was a preparation for me to help people I deal with now," he says in the soft Kentuckian drawl that has never left his voice.

But don't misunderstand — he can talk loud when he wants to. Like to get the attention of his basketball players. Or when he leads singing in his church.

"I think they asked me to lead singing because I'm the only one who can make them hear me in the back row of the church," laughs the born-again believer who is active in his church. He is also a deacon and has just started teaching a class of young adults in Sunday School. "We have a black pastor and our congregation is about 50-50 racial mixture and I believe God has helped me to stabilize the situation."

"Before, we had whites moving out but now things have stabilized and we are in the best situation we've been — spiritually and financially — in a long time," he says.

Reflections

Another stage of being

I am entering into another stage of being. I have become the wife of a retiree.

It is impossible for me to conceive of such a thing, but there is irrefutable evidence. He doesn't get up in the morning and go to work, and that is about as positive as any evidence can get.

And then there was the party!

A bunch of his relatives, friends and colleagues gathered together to honor this fellow who had just applied for his social security check.

There were cartoons and poetry written by engineering executives of all things, giving of presents and lots of spirit (s) floating about. It was a superb party. At pumpkin-turning time everyone went home...everyone, that is, except the old retiree. He gathered up his children, and his nieces and nephews and any other young ones who wanted to tag along, and he took us dancing.

There was a song sung for him as we entered, something about happy retirement and he raised his glass in a toast to the entertainers, Al and Paula. Then, "rock it!" he cried, and pulled his youngest out on the dance floor where he shook, and shimmed, and threw his body in rhythm to the beat of the drum, until his youngest collapsed in her chair and cried for mercy.

The drum was silenced, the organ rendered its final note and Al and Paula said goodbye. The establishment darkened the lights and it was only then that the retiree got the hint that it was time to leave.

But did he go home? He was hungry.

At 4 a.m. he finally collapsed in bed, sighing that it was the second greatest night of his life. At 6 a.m. he was leaping out of the covers ready to go. At first I thought he was having his usual old age cramps, but there weren't any pain yelps.

"M'gosh where are you going now?" I asked from the depth of two pillows piled over my head.

"Come on," he shouted. "We've got to stay in shape. Besides, I want to try my new jogging clothes."

Every bone in my body creaked as I rolled out of bed. You can't exactly call it rolling, though, especially when my feet and hands were being held in a tight grip and I was having parts of me yanked to the tune of "Look the sun is shining. Up, up, up!"

I crawled grumpily into my clothes.

"Want breakfast? I asked.

"We'll do our fast walking and stop for breakfast somewhere," he answered, admiring himself in the mirror. "I don't look like a retiree do I?"

He really didn't.

He pulled his jogging windbreaker close around his ears and we walked outside. George (our dog) had ambled along down the hall with us but when we opened the door to the outdoors he balked. His shackles rose and he let out a small growl.

I pushed him out and this made him a bit belligerent but I used my big, gruff, mean voice and he put his head between his legs and did what he was supposed to be outside for.

I turned to find my retiree. He was standing by the side of the car, unlocking the door.

"What are you doing?" I yelled.

"It's cold out here," he answered, flinging open the door and jumping inside the car.

"Of course it's cold. It's still winter," I told him. "You will warm up after a few blocks."

He stuck his head out and shivered. He looked up at the sky.

"Tell you what, hon," he grinned. "You need the jogging more than me. YOU jog. I'll drive up and meet you for breakfast." He backed that car right out of the drive, disappearing quickly around the corner.

If I wanted any breakfast it seemed I was going to have to run for it. That is the way it is, being married to a retiree.

Ask Carol Premo

Is she a 'dumb jerk'?

By CAROL PREMO, C.S.W.

DEAR CAROL,

A couple of weeks ago a person, who calls herself a friend, called me at work. I hadn't talked to her for months and was real glad to hear from her.

The reason I hadn't talked to her for such a long time was because things just never seemed to work out right. No matter what we planned something always happened and the plans fell through.

This time when we were talking she said it would be really nice to get together for dinner the next week. I agreed and we thought Wednesday would be good but she was not positively sure. She said that she had to check on a couple of details first. She also asked me to call her Tuesday because she was sure to be home on that day.

So, dumb jerk that I am I went ahead and hired a sitter for my daughter and got all excited about going out for dinner. Was she home when I called? Did she call me? Did we go out for dinner? No. No. No. Did I pay a sitter half price for not sitting? Am I dumb? Am I mad? Yes. Yes. Yes.

What do you think of this and what can I do?

YOURS TRULY,
C.R.

Dear C.R.,

First of all I think that it was a trashy thing to do to a friend. Bar ring extreme emergencies, there is no excuse for not contacting a friend when there is a tentative plan made. If you don't want to or can't do something planned it is only considerate to let the other person know so that they will be free to make other plans (or cancel baby sitters).

However, you can avoid these situations by being enough about, yourself to insist on definite planning, date, time, place, etc. You do not have to consider that plans have been made until they are definite and if someone wants your company they will make them definite. Additionally, you can let your friend know that you were inconvenienced and your feelings hurt by her behavior. Stand up for yourself!

DEAR CAROL,

Hi. This is in the manner of a fan letter. I really don't see too many in there. Anyway, I like it and wanted to let you know. But I have one question for you. I met you in town and you are one sharp looking chick. How come you let them print that photo of you? It makes you look dumb.

ANONYMOUS

Dear Anonymous,

Thank you for the fun fan letter. "Sharp looking, chick"? Good grief! Are you sure you met me? If so, I am surprised at your labeling. The picture that accompanies my column is there with my consent and suits me just fine. Now I have a question for you. Why all this interest in people's physical appearance? I simply refuse to believe its all that important.

She's better than '10'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

The lady was perfect.

A '10'.

Plus 290. That's right — a 300, and let's see anyone top that. Betcha even Bo Derek would have problems beating Kay H. Hollenbach.

Ms. Hollenbach proved she had rare talent last Monday ... talent that only a few can boast. Like bowling a perfect 300 game. That's right. The secretary to the Director of Special Services at the Van Buren Board of Education came up with one of those incredible perfect games.

And she can't get over it. Understandably. She carries a 147 average and started the night at Lodge Lanes with an anemic 111 game. Her next game wasn't much better — a 123.

Then it happened!

"After those first two games I really didn't expect what was to come," Ms. Hollenbach said. "Just figure how you'd feel if you carded a 300 game. It's a once in a lifetime deal. And I'm really afraid that it was a fluke."

Fluke or no fluke, Ms. Hollenbach can brag about something that millions of bowlers only dream about. That perfect game. Congratulations, Kay.

Liebler among top U.S. divers

For the first time in many a year we had to unveil our All-Area swimmers in "installments." Space, the lack of it, caused us to hold back the second part of the story. Hopefully, we can finish up next week.

MICHAEL WHITE

But Michael White's victory at the Michigan State Junior Bowling Tournament was apparently no fluke. Michael, who recently turned 16, rolled games of 237-252-265-173 and 232 for a 1,159 total to come away from Gold Crown Lanes in Troy with the top prize.

White qualified for the state finals by beating out 30 other challengers in a roll-off and the "all-A" Belleville High sophomore proved to be the best in the state in his age group.

"Michael takes his bowling very seriously," said his mother, "and, as long as he can keep his grades up, there's no problem." Just like a mother, right?

On the subject of swimming, Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy, honored as the Associated Newspapers' Coach of the Year, said he visited Harvard last week to watch the National Collegiate Diving championships.

There were two reasons why Vicchy traveled east: one, to visit brother Frank, who coaches at the University of Wyoming and the swim team; and secondly, to watch ex-Belleville High diver, Arlo Liebler, compete in the nationals.

How did everything work out? Well, Liebler finished 21st in the nation — not bad when you consider the best in the U.S. were there.

Ask any coach, fundamentals — sound fundamentals — open the doors to championships.

And fundamentals must be drilled into a young athlete over-and-over again if the athlete and the team are to reach their goals.

Area high school coaches apparently accept this hypothesis for, with each passing year, the crop of prep swimmers appear fundamentally better than their predecessors.

"If, in the past our kids were trained for a year or two before they began prep competition," said Westland John Glenn Coach Jim Lawrence, "now we're getting them from the AAU age group — the six and seven year olds who have stuck with swim programs for seven or eight years before coming to us."

"Obviously, that means we're getting experienced swimmers — a better caliber athlete who has had the basics drilled into them," Lawrence added.

The results are beginning to show: Belleville, Wayne Memorial, Cherry Hill and Dearborn Heights Robichaud all won league championships this season. Belleville and Cherry Hill also placed among the top 10 in state competitions.

From these outstanding teams come the bulk of The Associated Newspapers' All-Area swimmers.

Softball coaches are needed

With the softball and baseball season upon us, the Wayne Parks and Recreation will need volunteers to step forward and coach teams in its girls' softball leagues.

The games are played during the evenings at the Avondale and Anderson fields.

Anyone who is interested in coaching this summer should contact the recreation department at 721-7400.

Umpires also are in need. Officials must be at least 15 or older with knowledge of the game in order to qualify for the position. Umps will be paid for their services.

Most of these swimmers are destined to become collegiate stars of the future.

Swimmers such as Livonia Franklin's Tim Weber, Glenn's Greg Dawkins, Belleville's Mike Stoelton and Canton's Kirk Albert to name just a few should have no problems finding their niche on college teams.

Some 30 prep tankers were nominated by area coaches and accepted into the elite All-Area club this year. Most of them earned league and state recognition. Here is a brief sketch of each swimmer:

Belleville, whose two relay teams are represented on All-Area, finished fourth in the state in the medley with Ward Tomich, Mark Schofield, Jeff Bullock and Mike Stoelton. They set a school record of 1:30.31 in picking up a state medal.

TOMICH — A senior who owns three varsity records helped Coach Sam Vicchy's Tigers capture their first Suburban 8 Conference championship and his performance also earned him all-league consideration. "Ward is an excellent college prospect," said Vicchy, "and a fine student. If I had coached him better he would have been the best backstroke in the state."

BULLOCK — Designated as one of five team captains, Jeff, the "Bull," is a clutch performer on this championship team. He helped set the medley relay record and also is an exceptional butterflyer. He has been clocked in 57.9 in that event. "Jeff was always around when the team needed him most," said Vicchy.

SCHOFIELD — Voted the MVP

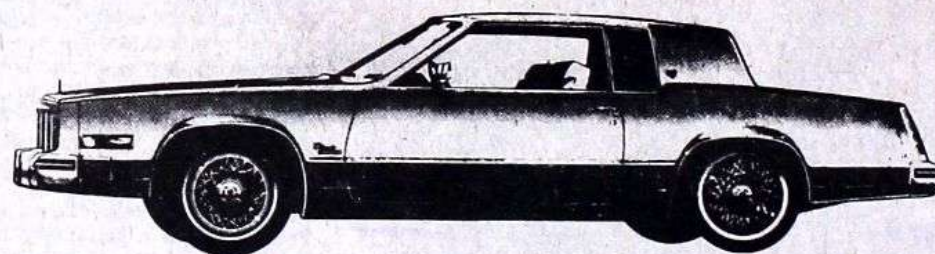

junior on the team, Mark contributed 183½ points to the Tigers' 13-1 over-all season. A versatile swimmer who has been clocked in 2:08.4 for the 200-yard individual medley, Schofield's name also can be found among the top 10 performers in the 100-yard breaststroke. He's been clocked in that event in 1:08.7. "Next year this kid should really be a terror," said Coach Vicchy. "He has tremendous potential."

DAWKINS — A sophomore who will probably be one of the greatest, if not the greatest swimmer in Westland John Glenn's history has already made a name for himself in state competition. The 15-year-old swimmer finished sixth in the 200-yard freestyle at state with a school-

Coach of the Year

Vicchy's last swim season was his best

Sam Vicchy has dominated the area swim scene since he left Kent State 10 years ago to become Belleville High head swim coach.

It will be difficult to imagine a Belleville swim team without Vicchy who announced earlier in the year that he wanted "to take a year off to spend with my family."

SAM VICCHY

But before his departure The Associated Newspapers wish to bestow yet another honor on this gregarious coach who led his Tigers to the school's first undefeated conference season, an over-all 13-1 record and its first Suburban 8 League championship before placing sixth among the Class A state powers.

The ANP selected Vicchy as its "Coach of the Year."

When Vicchy came on the area coaching scene Belleville was mired at the bottom of a league dominated by two-time state champions, Dearborn, and its cross-town rival, Dearborn Edsel Ford. He vowed then that he would build a program second to none in the league and among the best in the state.

Vicchy has kept that promise.

"I have a simple philosophy when it comes to coaching," Vicchy says. "I know it's a cliché, but it's also very true: 'Nothing produces results faster than hard work.' It pays off in the short and long runs."

Vicchy may be easy going away from the pool, but that all changes when his insatiable thirst to develop and coach young athletes takes over at poolside.

"In coaching, I feel, more than anything else, you must have patience," Vicchy says. "Results don't come immediate, although many think so. A winner — a champ — isn't produced in one day."

"There has to be interaction between a whole lot of people over a period of many years before you can eventually see the end result. It takes a team of people to make a swimmer out of a guy or girl."

We're going to miss Sam round these parts next year.

Westland sets gymnastics meet

Westland Parks and Recreation is hosting its second annual Women's Gymnastic Invitational on Saturday, April 19 at the Melvin G. Bailey Recreation Center, 36651 Ford Road.

At 5 p.m., Wednesday, April 14 deadline has been set for those who wish to compete in the tournament which is open to both teams and individuals.

Gymnasts may register individually or have their coach sign them up. Awards will be presented to the team and the individual who place in the top three (medals) and fourth through sixth places will be given ribbons.

There will also be an award for the all-around event's winner.

Please contact the Westland Parks and Recreation offices at 722-7620 or 261-7030 for further information concerning the meet.

Last year some 74 local and area gymnasts took part in the day-long competitions.

record breaking time of 1:45.45 and won the consolation finals in the 100-yard freestyle after posting a 48.35. "Greg has a lot of natural ability and is a very hard worker," said Coach Jim Lawrence. "As a sophomore he holds a host of records, and before his prep career is over, he should set some standards that will stay on the boards for a long time."

BOND will be back with the defending Suburban 8 Conference champs next year. The 16-year-old swimmer stood sixth among the top point-getters on the team. His 1:51.8 for the 200-yard freestyle is the seventh best time in the area and he'll be counted on next year to provide the nucleus for another Belleville winning team.

McNAMARA was the impetus behind Cherry Hill's outstanding year. Curt was instrumental in the Spartans' undefeated conference season and he was fifth in the state in the 200-yard individual medley among Class B finalists. Also a junior, McNamara finished fourth at state for the 100-yard breaststroke. His 2:03.7 for the medley and 1:03.9 for the breaststroke are school records.

RENTON — One of the most consistent swimmers in Belleville High history, Chris has been atop of the area listings in at least eight of the 11 events. He also has established five of 11 team records. Chris has the distinction of earning all-league and All-Area recognition three years in a row. "He's one of the best all-around swimmers we have had in these parts for some time," said Coach Vicchy. "He'll be swimming for a college team this fall."

MEMERING — A key performer for Belleville in the 200-yard individual medley, Bob "tapered well and was a double placer in the league meet," said Coach Vicchy. "He's the type of swimmer that every coach needs in order to win. You can rely on him when the going is rough."

STOELTON — Wrapping up his prep career, Mike can boast of setting or holding four of Belleville's team records. He has turned in a 22.2 for the 50-yard freestyle and has been clocked in 48.7 for the 100-yard freestyle. Stoelton's 219½ points is second only to Renton's 234½ as the team's best. "In my opinion Mike is the best freestyle sprinter in Belleville's history. He's a true champion and we could always count on Mike in crucial situations," said Vicchy.

WEBER — A three-time letterwinner at Franklin, Tim was co-captain of Coach Larry Teahan's Patriots. He also has qualified for the state meet for the past three years. Weber holds school records in the 50-yard freestyle (22.18) and was part of the record-setting medley relay team. Tim finished fourth in the state in the 50 and was 12th in the 100 freestyle (48.90). League champ in the 50 and runnerup in the 100, he helped Franklin win the Northwest Suburban title in the 400-yard freestyle. A member of the all-conference team, Tim also finished second in the Western Wayne in both the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events. "He's been a consistent winner all three years for us in the freestyle events," Coach Teahan said. "Undoubtedly one of our finest swimmers, Tim was selected as our Most Valuable Swimmer this year."

STERLING — Another one of those excellent Belleville prospects, Jeff Sterling is a junior who helped the Tigers win the Sub-8 Conference title in the 400-yard freestyle relay. The Tigers carded a 3:20.23 in winning the gold. Sterling also can cover the 50-yard freestyle in 23.1 and is expected to replace Stoelton as the No. 1 sprinter next year.

McCLELLAND continues in the footsteps of some of the area and Belleville greats on the diving boards. A junior who won the Suburban 8 Conference gold medal with his 432.45 total, Pat finished ninth at the state to earn all-state consideration in his specialty. "He has exceptional poise and confidence," said Vicchy, "and he's a hard worker. It all adds up to Pat being a serious contender for the state title a year from now."

RAKOTZ is also shaping up into a standout diver who has contributed tremendously to the success of the Belleville team. A seventh place finisher in the conference, Doug and his diving partner are expected to help Belleville maintain its monopoly in the event in both the conference and the Western Wayne Invitational, an invitational the Tigers have won seven of the past 10 times.

BRAD GEORGE finished the season strong after missing most of the early part of it with an illness. George holds the school record for the 100-yard butterfly (56.5) and he placed in the top six in the Western Wayne in that event. He also placed in three events at league — finishing third in the 100-yard butterfly; second in the 500 and was a member of the winning 400-yard freestyle relay. "Brad is an all-around performer," said Coach Teahan. "He swam in all of the freestyle events, butterfly, the 200 IM and the backstroke."

LAWSON is a sprinter whose contributions to the Tigers included a third place in the 200-yard freestyle (1:52.29) at the league and a sixth place as a member of the 400-yard freestyle relay team at state. "A true sprinter — that's what Brett is," says Vicchy. "He has as much potential as any swimmer we have ever coached."

TRASKOS — A sophomore who can swim a 5:05.3 for the 500-yard freestyle, Doug is being touted as the heir apparent to the freestyle throne in the area. He finished seventh in the 500 at the conference and amassed 57 points during the year to earn his first varsity stripe.

DUBISKY — Another junior who'll be back a year from now, Dave started his swimming career with the Tiger Swim Club and has quickly developed as a top-notch freestyler. He had the fifth best time for the 200-yard freestyle in the league and turned in the sixth best Sub-8 performance for the 500. He was a key factor in the Tigers' triumph at the Western Wayne and the state.

MacDERMID is one of the most improved swimmers on the Belleville team and, unfortunately, is "always involved in an accident of sorts," said the Belleville coach.

COOPER has been "Belleville's inspirational leader," according to the Belleville coach. His 1:03.0 for the 100-yard breaststroke shares with Cherry Hill's Curt McNamara the best time for that event in the area. One of our most improved swimmers from his ninth grade year, Greg contributed 121 points, holds the school record in his specialty, and placed fifth at the conference meet.

STEVE MATHENY was the spark behind Wayne Memorial's fifth consecutive Great Lakes 8 Conference championship. The Zebras' co-captain, Steve sports a 3.9 scholastic average and has earned a scholarship to Wayne State University. He also owns the pool record for the 200-yard freestyle and captured gold medals in the 200-yard and 500 yard freestyle and was a part of the winning 400-yard freestyle relay. "He's a very hard working athlete," said Wayne Coach Jim McPartlin, "and we're going to miss him a year from now."

MIKE SOULES, however, will be back. The 16-year-old junior holds the school record in the 50 yard freestyle and was voted as the Most Outstanding Junior in the team. "He's an excellent leader, who motivates his teammates," McPartlin pointed out.

Long gets diamond ring

Detroit Pistons guard John Long will receive a diamond ring with his uniform number "25" embedded in the stone for being the top point-getter in the 1979-80 J. B. Robinson's Jewelers "3 Stars of the Game" balloting.

The "3 Stars of the Game" contest began on October 18 and continued throughout the remainder of the Pistons' home season. The three stars were selected by the covering members of the media. Points were awarded on a 3-2-1 basis.

Long finished the balloting with 34 points, just two ahead of forwards Bob McAdoo and Terry Tyler. Rookie forward Gregory Kelser's strong late-season showing enabled him to nail down the fourth spot with 30 points.

Long's 34 points were accumulated on the basis of a team-leading eight "Number One Star" distinctions along with four seconds and two thirds. The nightly awards also contained certificates with Long's points worth $280 in game-night certificates from J. B. Robinson's.

Prepare 'something special' for a special day — Easter Sunday

Homemade decorated eggs

For your recipe file

An Easter treat - chocolate eggs

If the egg is a symbol of Easter, it is also a welcome sign of spring. The traditional Easter egg has been popularized in the form of a confection and nothing satisfies as much as the creation of these delectable treats in your very own kitchen.

To create your own Chocolate-Covered Easter Eggs, you start with the basic recipe for an uncooked coconut cream fondant egg. Tender Baker's Angel Flake coconut adds texture to the creamy center, which can be tinted with food coloring, if desired.

Cover the eggs with Easy Chocolate Coating made of melted Baker's semi-sweet chocolate. Once firm, the coating is ready for Confectioners Sugar Glaze and this step leaves you free to "express" yourself.

Chocolate-Covered Easter Eggs

1 pound unsifted confectioners sugar
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
1 tablespoon softened butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
Dash of cream of tartar
1 1/2 cups (about) flaked coconut

4 drops yellow food coloring
1/2 drop red food coloring
Easy Chocolate Coating

Combine confectioners sugar, water, corn syrup, butter, vanilla, salt, almond extract and cream of tartar in bowl and mix thoroughly. (Mixture will be crumbly.) Add coconut, mix until smooth and shape into 6 small eggs. Cut in half, lengthwise; scoop out about 1 teaspoon at round end of each half, and place in small bowl. Blend in yellow and red food coloring. Return tinted mixture to egg halves. Press halves firmly together, pinching to seal edges. Cover entire eggs with Easy Chocolate Coating; let stand until chocolate is firm. Decorate eggs with Confectioners Sugar Glaze, if desired. Makes 1 1/2 pounds candy.

Note: Candies may be shaped, wrapped and stored a day before coating with chocolate. Tinting of centers may be omitted.

Easy Chocolate Coating. Partially melt 1 package (8 squares) semi-sweet chocolate in saucepan over very low heat. Remove from heat; stir rapidly until entirely melted. Let stand until cool (83 degrees).

Confectioners Sugar Glaze. Place 1/2 cup sifted confectioners sugar in small bowl. Add 1 1/2 teaspoons hot milk or water gradually, blending well.

As an Easter finale - serve salad and ham sandwiches

For Easter Sunday evening, when you're turning that baked ham into supper sandwiches, this delicious side salad will be just the right addition for something cold and tasty.

Reach into your cupboard and a package of Jell-O lime flavor gelatin. Improve with fresh or canned fruits or vegetables and you can create a sparkling accompaniment to any entree or light meal.

Lime flavor gelatin and canned fruit provide the makings for this classic loaf pan recipe, Under-the-Sea Salad. The layered salad is prepared with pears, cream cheese and a touch of cinnamon and chilled until firm — about four hours.

Just before serving, unmold and garnish with greens for a pretty touch. Put out the sliced ham, some rolls or dark bread, and you've plenty for a holiday finale.

Under-the-Sea Salad

1 can (16 oz.) pear halves
1 package (3 oz.) lime flavor gelatin
1/4 tsp. salt (optional)
1 cup boiling water
1 tbsp. lemon juice
2 packages (3 oz. each) cream cheese
1/4 tsp. cinnamon (optional)

Drain pears, reserving 3/4 cup of the syrup. Dice pears and set aside. Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add reserved syrup and lemon juice. Pour 1 1/4 cups into an 8 x 4-inch loaf pan. Chill until set, but not firm, about 1 hour. Meanwhile, soften cheese until creamy. Very slowly blend in remaining gelatin, beating until smooth. Add cinnamon and pears and spoon into pan. Chill until firm, about 4 hours. Unmold, garnish with salad greens and additional pears, if desired. Makes about 3 1/2 cups or 6 servings.

Mothers of Twins to hold convention

The Macomb County Mothers of Twins Club will serve as the hostess of the 16th annual Convention of the Michigan Organizations of Mothers of Twins Club Inc. May 2-4 at the Michigan Inn in Southfield.

All mothers of twins, triplets and quads (and their husbands) are invited to attend the convention. However, reservations must be made by no later than April 3 by contacting Mrs. Tom Stevens, 5486 Winchester, Troy (phone 879-6023), or Mrs. Richard Goss, 54221 Arrowhead Drive, Utica (phone 781-4213).

This year's theme will be "Sweet Sixteen — Just for the Fun of It". Entertainment will include a '50s-'60s revue starring the Moms and Dads of the Macomb County MOTC, a Saturday evening banquet with the installation of officers, the "Good Times Quartet" and music by Bill Ging and "The Daydreamers".

Featured speakers will include Lillian Kaufman who will discuss "How to Use Oldies but Goodies" to update wardrobes and Sr. Karen Hawver, an elementary school counselor, who will discuss "Our Belief System".

Workshops planned for May 3 will include Dr. Robert Belknap, a pediatrician and father of twins; Carl Asher, executive director of the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Center in Royal Oak; Cindy Symington, a licensed floral designer; and Patricia Lowing Gala, director of psychological services at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

The Michigan Organization of Mothers of Twins Club has been established for the purpose of exchanging information pertaining to the rearing, development and encouragement of individuality of twins, as may be forthcoming from parents, doctors, educators, or other supportive appropriate sources.

The organization also assists in medical research, helps organize new clubs, strengthens the bond of fellowship between mothers of multiple births and tries to bring about solutions to the unique problems of multiple births within families.

Locally, information can be obtained from Kathy Simpson, president of the Western Wayne County Mothers of Twins Club, at 534-7573.

April is busy month for BPW members

The next few weeks will find the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) busy with a number of activities. On April 2 their candidate for Young Careerist, Ann Elizabeth O'Beay, will compete against other entrants at the District XV meeting at the Westfield Activities Center in Trenton.

On April 7 the group will meet for its regular dinner and meeting at Faith United Methodist Church in Denton. New officers will be elected under the direction of Bonnie Pavlat, program chairman and other members from the scholarship and nominating committees. At this meeting a social event, a progressive dinner for club members, will be planned for April 19.

The Humanitarian Committee continues to make visits to the Evergreen Hills Nursing Home with the next call set for April 18.

The annual spring rummage sale has been slated for April 26 at the Masonic Temple on Main Street, Belleville. Aldine Potter will chair the club's fund-raiser.

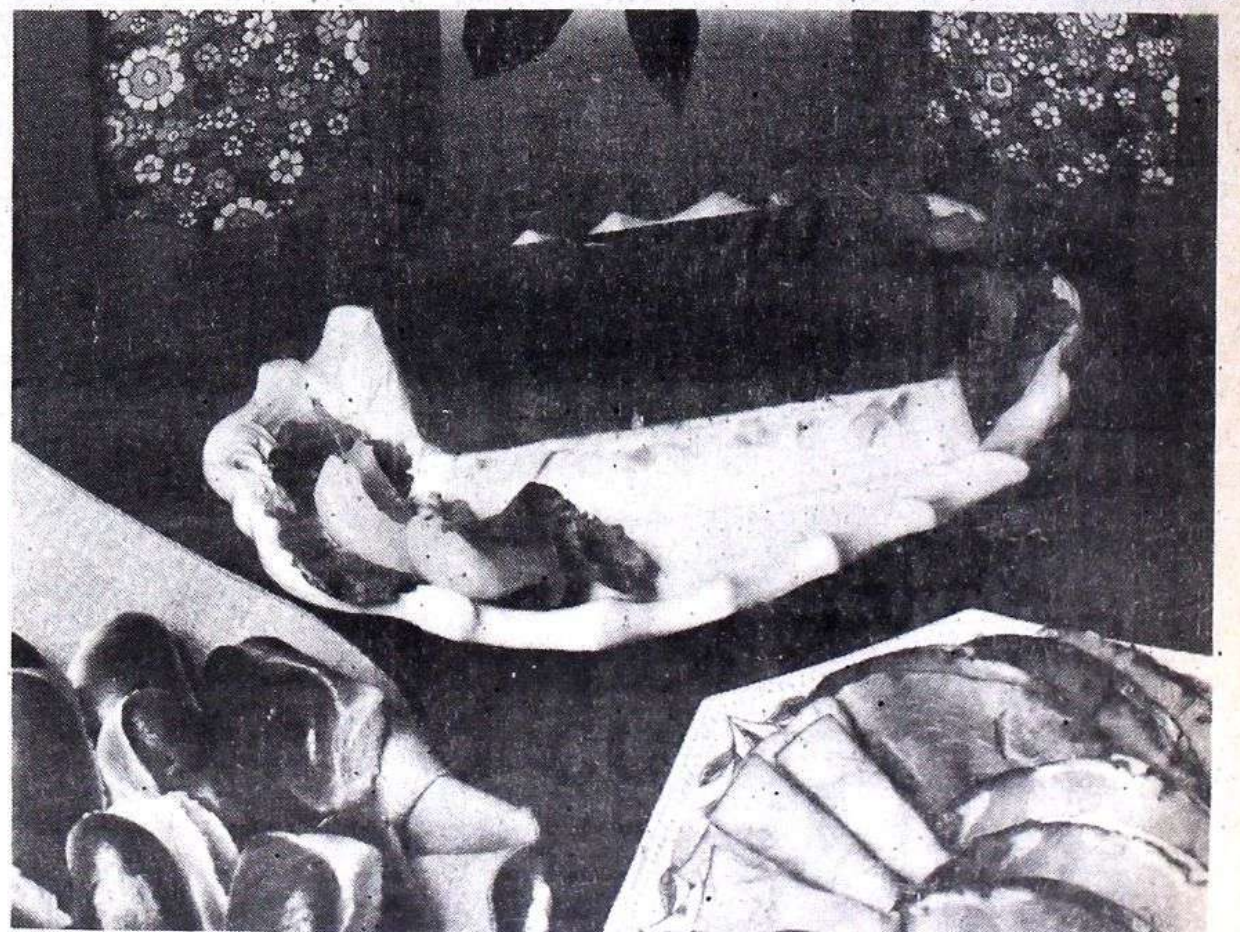

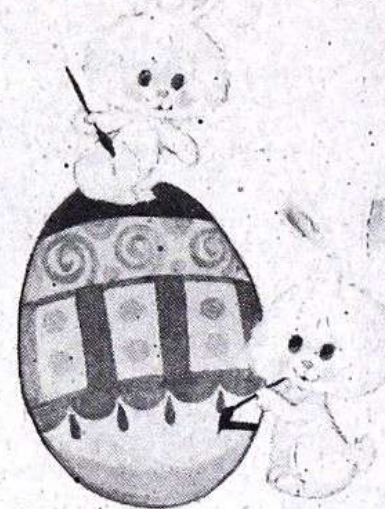

Early deadline

Due to vacation scheduling for the Easter season, an early deadline will again be in effect next week for the Suburban Living section only. Those with news items are requested to have them submitted no later than 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 9, rather than Thursday.

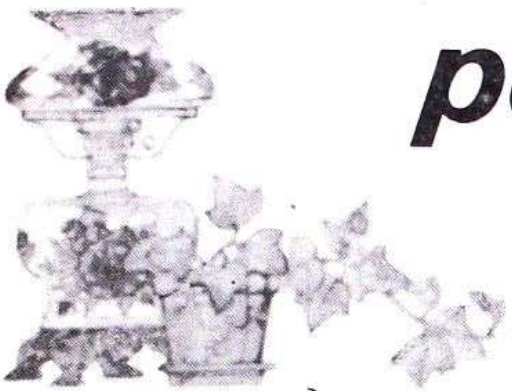

Your cooperation with this holiday deadline will result in having your news printed in the following week's publication.

Under-the-Sea Salad

potpourri

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Several readers remarked lately that I've not been running any newly-tried or old-proven recipes in "potpourri" - and they miss 'em.

And last week when Mrs. Annie Williams of Romulus tracked me down at the Wayne office, she also asked "How come?"

Well, fellow fans of the culinary world, I guess it's because the new ones I HAVE tried have been from current magazines and newspapers and I just assumed you'd be clipping recipes and giving them a go-round yourself.

But, Annie told me, she'd rather hear that something's good from someone she knows rather than to experiment herself and, after several years subscription to the Roman, she feels as if she's known me a long time. That's nice to hear.

Another courtesy from Annie is the fact she'd like to share a recipe that her sister served her family on their recent visit to Athens, Ga. Since I've hardly ever met a person who didn't adore chocolate ... or souffles, this one sounds like sure-fire winner.

And -- having mentioned the soup I put together recently -- she urged me to print it this week since I didn't have the recipe with me to give her over the phone.

And, guys and gals, (whoever the kitchen expert might be at your house), give me a buzz or send in any recipe you might care to have published in this column.

NO-BAKE CHOCOLATE SOUFFLE

- 3 (1 oz.) squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1 and one-third cups Eagle Brand condensed milk
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 1/2 cups cold water
- 1/2 cup creme de cacao
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 cup nonfat dry milk
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

In top of double boiler, melt chocolate; stir in condensed milk. Soften gelatin in 1 1/2 cups cold water; add to chocolate. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Add creme de cacao, vanilla and salt. Chill gelatin mixture over ice water until consistency of unbeaten egg white. In large bowl, combine 1 cup cold water, dry milk and lemon juice. Beat until stiff, about 10 minutes. Fold into chilled gelatin mixture. Spoon into individual dessert dishes or pour into one large serving dish and dole out later. Chill about 2 hours or until set. Make 6 to 8 servings.

Here's the newcomer to the shoe box file I tested on BG last week after spotting it in the latest Better Homes and Gardens, one that's not only delicious but super because of its simplicity. Because we prefer soups rather thick and with more body, I added the mashed potatoes and also some lemon juice.

VERY EASY BORSCH

- 1 envelope dry onion soup mix
- 2 16-oz. cans julienne beets (if not available, buy slices and cut up yourself.)
- 1 16-oz. jar sweet-sour red cabbage
- 1 11-oz. can condensed beef broth
- 4 or 5 medium potatoes, boiled and mashed
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- Dairy sour cream

In 4-quart kettle prepare onion soup mix according to directions. Stir in undrained beets, undrained cabbage and broth. Heat through then add lemon juice and mashed potatoes (if desired). Serve topped with dollops of sour cream. Makes 8-10 servings.

TIDBITS COLLECTED FROM TV'S "HOLLYWOOD SQUARES" - My one daytime television indulgence whenever I'm home is "Hollywood Squares" which I consider one of the wittiest and most informative quiz shows on the video waves. Viewing with pen and pad in hand, I try to jot down some of the more unusual or interesting bits of information to pass on to readers who might like the addition of a little trivia in "potpourri."

For instance, did you know that the first Cesarz salad was created in 1920 at Cesarz's Restaurant in Tiajuana, Mexico? (I figured it had its debut in Italy.) Or that the average kiss uses up nine calories? Or that the highest paid lecturer in the land is none other than Mohammed Ali who collects the nice fat fee of $75,000 every time he gives a 30-minute spiel? Or that more falsies are sold to American women than all other countries combined?

Although I LOVE Robert Ludlum's books, his latest (and number one on the charts), "The Bourne Identity", left me absolutely limp ... tired ... and rather bewildered. The ninth in his line of spy thrillers, it was far from being one of my favorites. Mainly, because there was just too much violence!

The entire first part, Book I, (and that's a total of 136 pages), is filled with gunshots, knifings, strangulations and every type of bodily injury and mutilation imaginable. I just don't enjoy those kinds of images; blood, broken bones and beatings not making for very pleasurable reading fantasies.

It might have helped if all this wildness had simmered down in the ensuing chapters but the novel built constantly into a nerve-wracking crescendo.

For those of us who dote on Ludlum's fantastic stories, though, this one IS different. Some 523 pages long, the tale which encompasses Paris, Zurich and Washington, is about a man with no memory who is given a name -- Jason Bourne. A man who other men recognize and lash out in fear and fury to kill, his origins are given substance in Paris where he learns he is an international assassin hunted by unseen armies belonging to still another assassin, the dreaded and notorious Carlos.

In his final pages, Ludlum describes the culmination of the two men's hatred for each other; their unbelievably brutal confrontation being what left this reader just worn out!

True Ludlum buffs won't want to miss it, though.

LOOKING BACK IN HISTORY: This day, April. 2, 1792 - Congress enacted legislation authorizing a mint in the United States to coin money; all coins to be inscribed with the motto, "E pluribus unum." At the same time, Congress fixed the gold prize at $19.39 per ounce.

IN 1932 - Charles A. Lindberg and Dr. John Condon turned over $50,000 in bills to an unidentified man in St. Raymond's Cemetery in the Bronx, N. Y. in hope of regaining Lindberg's kidnapped son.

(And because I'll be on vacation next week and have already done research for what happened on April 9, the following are portions of the past which occurred on that day.)

IN 1865 - General Robert E. Lee surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia to General Ulysses S. Grant, commander-in-chief of the Union Army, at Appomattox Court House in Virginia.

IN 1928 - Strait-laced New Yorkers were shocked over the debut of a raucous actress by the name of Mae West in a risque new play entitled "Diamond Lil".

IN 1941 - The Professional Golf Association (PGA) announced the creation of the Golf Hall of Fame. The first players selected for membership being Bobby Jones, Francis Quimet, Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen.

IN 1942 - April 9 saw the fall of Bataan after more than three months of heroic resistance by American and Filipino forces which were overwhelmed by Japanese armies 10 times their number.

As Art Linkletter used to state daily on his television show, "Kids say the darndest things!" At a recent party we collected (in Linkletter fashion), the following two rare gems repeated by a little girl's proud daddy.

On entering the house one day after school, he said, his daughter took one whiff of what her mother was cooking (which happened to be cauliflower) and said, "Yech! What are we having, 'thrup soup'?" And translated, that reads "throw-up soup".

Another time when the lightning was flashing and the thunder pounding, she squealed, "Oh-h, that thunder is scaring my ears!" Cute, huh?

THE BOTTOM LINE: After the life of the party passes out, everybody begins to have a good time.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH HILLS

Gruich, Hills marry at Livonia church

New residents of Romulus since their recent marriage in Livonia are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Hills.

Suzanne Marie Gruich, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gruich of Richard Street, Wayne, and Kenneth Henry Hills spoke their nuptial vows at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church and later were feted at a reception at the Wayne Community Center.

The bride, who chose a traditional white gown with a high lace collar, illusion neckline and full sleeves, asked her sister, Laura Ann Gruich to be her honor attendant. Debbie Holmes and Connie Holmes were bridesmaids.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hills of Cardwell Street, Garden City, the bridegroom was attended by his brother, Gregory Hills as best man, and David Slanic and Bill Vicory Jr. as groomsmen.

Send us your bridal information

Want to share that "special day" with those who are unable to be present in person for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you -- and at no charge -- if you'll simply follow a few guidelines.

The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all." These forms include all the pertinent questions involved with your marriage or betrothal.

Forms may be picked up at our office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville (we're in the old Township Hall, side entrance) anytime during the week between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

We will also mail forms if a telephone request is made. Call Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, at 697-9191.

Wheatgerm cookbooks available

A new 64-page recipe book "Beautiful Cooking" with Kretschmer Wheat Germ has been published by International Multifoods. This handsome piece is illustrated with mouthwatering color photography. It is designed for consumers newly acquainted with wheat germ as well as those of you who ad lib with wheat germ in almost all of your cooking.

The recipes are contemporary and will appeal to cooks of all ages. When appropriate, both conventional and microwave methods are given. Emphasis is placed on turning out wholesome and nutritious meals.

More than half of the wheat germ recipes are devoted to entrees, vegetables, salads, sandwiches and snack ideas. Four outstanding cake recipes plus an elegant pie take care of the dessert situation. A small, select group of quick breads and yeast breads completes the tempting assortment of consumer tested wheat germ recipes.

"Beautiful Cooking" with Kretschmer Wheat Germ recipe books may be obtained by sending $1 for each copy to: Beautiful Cooking, P.O. Box 9432-K, St. Paul, MN 55194.

Aging parents, children dilemma workshop set

A special workshop directed at those persons who find themselves "sandwiched" between aging parents and their own children, will be offered by Washtenaw Community College on April 8 from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Jeannie Aten, instructor for the workshop, explains that discussion will center around how to manage the emotional, financial and health requirements of aging parents while meeting the demands of one's own family.

There is no fee for the workshop which will be offered in the Adult Resources Center of the College on the first floor of the Student Center Building at 4800 East Huron River Drive.

Pre-registration is requested by phoning WCC staff at (313) 973-3528.

WCC offering embroidery class

A 2-week, 3-hour set of sessions in embroidery will be offered by Washtenaw Community College beginning tonight, April 2, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The class is open to the public and will continue April 9 at the same time.

Zane Olukalns, instructor for the class, explains that participants will learn how to add color to clothes, curtains or other fabrics in addition to receiving instruction in the use of transfers, appliques and pattern reading. Initial materials will be provided. Those enrolled are asked to bring a small pair of scissors.

A $10 fee will be charged for the class which will be offered in Room 304 of the College's Ypsilanti Center at 210 West Cross Street. As with all programs offered by the College, in-district senior citizens are invited to participate at no charge as part of the College's Emeritus program.

Advanced registration is requested by phoning WCC staff at (313) 482-2230.

FICTION

"The Song of the Siren" by Philippa Carr. As England erupts in violent Jacobite upheaval, two half-sisters — one of surpassing beauty and untamed spirit, the other plain, shy and dutiful — vie for the love of man and the life of a child.

"Helix" by Desmond Ryan. Vivid descriptions of scientific detective work make this an outstanding disaster novel with scientists trying to find a vaccine for a new virus and the army trying to prevent its spread.

"The Beginning Place" by Ursula K. Le Guin. Two young people meet in a magic world across the stream and over the threshold from the everyday world where they have grown up. They do not know how or why they have reached the cobbled street and eternal twilight of Tembreabrezi, the town on the mountain. They only know that by returning there they will find peace and escape from all the dreary problems of daily life. But when the refuge becomes horror and the roads of dream lead to nightmare, then there is no escape. They must choose now, not between one life and another, but between life and death.

NON-FICTION

"The Complete Book of Cat Care" by Leon Whitney. The most complete, up-to-date home guide to cat care available.

"Real Estate Mathematics Simplified" by Susan Shulman. A new approach to studying for the mathematics questions on any real estate licensing examination.

"Catalog of the Universe" by Paul Murdin. This is a collection and a portrait of the best known, the most unusual, the most remarkable and the most interesting of all that we know about, or at this moment, can know about in space.

"Traditional American Crafts" by Betsey Creekmore. Take a trip back to 17, 18, 19th century America and enjoy an authentic "craft-in" with the ladies of the day.

BIOGRAPHY

"Getting to Know Him: a Biography of Oscar Hammerstein II" by Hugh Fordin. This is the first authorized biography of one of America's best-loved lyricists. To write this book, author Fordin was given exclusive use of Hammerstein's archives which cover his entire life and the right to tape the personal recollections of Dorothy Hammerstein and their five children. In addition, Fordin has included fascinating first-hand stories and anecdotes from personal interviews with many of Hammerstein's illustrious colleagues, including Stephen Sondheim, James Michener, Irving Berlin, Agnes de Mille, Pearl Buck, Mary Martin, Joshua Logan, Jerome Robbins and Dorothy and Richard Rodgers.

"The King Strang Story" by Doyle C. Fitzpatrick. This is the story of a man seemingly propelled toward inescapable doom in an attempt to establish a Great Lakes Mormon Kingdom of God on Beaver Island, far out into Lake Michigan. This island kingdom was a strange new Michigan frontier, always on the verge of collapse. To this colony of strange and interesting peace-loving saints, and to Strang, it was a painful experience. Strang was humble and poor, yet burning with an unappeasable ambition to gain fame. Perhaps this is one goal he finally reached. James Strang was a leader with cool brains and a warm heart, a man who could have been a great lawyer. He entered the ministry instead, a ministry he neither sought, desired nor expected.

Romulus, Belleville women responsible for G.S. cookie sales

Two local women, Karen Charkiewicz of Romulus and Connie Morris of Belleville, have been responsible for the 1980 Huron Valley Girl Scout Council cookie sale in this vicinity.

The two area chairmen were among some 40 persons appointed by Council Cookie Sale Chairman Anita Apley of Ann Arbor. As part of their responsibilities, the two women helped to organize and conduct the sale by coordinating troop efforts in their respective communities.

The goal for this year's sale, which ran through March 25, was to sell 550,000 boxes. If met, it would mean a Girl Scout profit of $517,138. Of this money, $137,638 will go for direct troop program costs. The remaining funds will go to the Council to insure a standard of high quality programs available to Girl Scouts throughout the Council area which includes Washtenaw and Livingston Counties as well as southern Wayne and northern Monroe Counties.

Deliveries on the cookies begin April 14 and continue to April 30.

Kicking 'that' habit

This new year millions of smokers made a resolution to kick the cigarette habit. And, says the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan, millions of them will succeed and reap the benefits of their new nonsmoking lifestyle.

New evidence shows that the benefits to the lungs of quitting smoking are almost immediate as well as long-lasting. At the University of Oregon Health Services in Portland, a team of researchers examined the pulmonary functions of people who had attended smoking cessation clinics. The researchers studied those who managed to quit and those who did not. The dramatic results, which startled the researchers themselves, were published in a recent issue of the American Review of Respiratory Disease, published by the American Lung Association.

"We were surprised to find such an unequivocal improvement in the quitters in all of the function tests," say the researchers. Smokers who exhibited decidedly abnormal functions they quit showed the greatest improvement on all the tests—including the amount of air that could be inhaled with one breath and the amount that could be exhaled in one second.

"Respiratory symptoms virtually disappeared in those who stopped smoking," according to the researchers. The reversible effects were almost immediate and were evident for as long as the study lasted — 30 months. The improvements continued for the first six to eight months, and then remained stable. No comparable changes were shown by those who kept on smoking. To find out more about nonsmoking lifestyles for the new year, contact the American Lung Association's "Smoking Phone" at 963-3029. It's a matter of life and breath.

1980 PRIVATE PROPERTY WEEK

April 13-19

Realtors nationally celebrate "Private Property Week", reminding Americans of their right to own property.

Along with the right to own property is the right to use, sell, lease, or bequeath property and to enter it.

The classified pages are a means that buyers and sellers use to promote the pride of home ownership.

According to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors, the seemingly high price of homes today will seem as comparative bargains in only a few years.

Perhaps now IS a good time to purchase a home of your own.

Be sure to read the real estate section each week in the Associated Newspapers.

Plymouth Symphony to perform 'Passion'

Robert W. Jones of Schoolcraft College is a composer.

You might say he has a "passion" for his art — which happens to be the title of his new major work to be premiered in Plymouth next month.

When Bob Jones isn't writing music, he is teaching music or he is performing music.

But when is he not composing? Almost never.

Take "Passion." Originally conceived more than a year ago as a piece for a community chorus, it has been written specifically for the Schoolcraft Community Choir and the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

"It has taken a tremendously coordinated effort," Jones said.

"I discussed it with Marilyn Jones, (a Schoolcraft colleague but no relation) who directs the choir, and with Wayne Dunlap, then conductor of the Plymouth Symphony.

"Next came funding which we secured through a grant through Dean Ron Griffith of the college's community services.

"Finally, the writing, with the heavy composing compacted into last August, sandwiched between the close of summer music school and the start of the fall semester.

"It's not something you can set aside once you're into it. Concentration is a key factor in composing and you've got to gear your thinking to be able to do it well.

"I've learned my lesson with 'Passion,' no more biggies while school is in session."

Jones' work will be performed April 20 in the Plymouth Salem Auditorium. Dr. Marilyn Jones will be guest conducting that Sunday.

Other Joneses are involved. Bob's wife, Anne, wrote 10 poems for the work based on its biblical text. Dave, Marilyn's husband, did the copying and Christopher, Bob and Anne's 17 year-old son, will be playing string bass with the orchestra.

The Jones "Passion" is based on the Gospel of St. Matthew from the Last Supper through the burial of Christ in the tomb of Joseph of Aramathia.

It's uniqueness is that it portrays Christ's passion from the vantage and point of view of the women involved.

Bob Jones joined Schoolcraft as resident composer in 1969. He has produced 30 pieces since then including "Mass in Motion" in 1974, "Pilgrimage," a Bicentennial opera in 1976, and a ballet, "Burning Tree," written with Schoolcraft English instructor Ralph Kelley in 1976 for the Plymouth Symphony.

A faculty recital this summer will consist solely of Jones compositions including a new violin sonata he is writing.

A native of Chicago, Jones earned bachelor and master degrees in music at California's University of the Redlands. He also took post-graduate courses at the University of Minnesota, where he was a teaching fellow.

But according to him, Schoolcraft really has been his only teaching post and generally he likes the combination of teaching and composing.

With roots from a large city, Bob and Anne enjoy living in Detroit's Rosedale Park. Their daughter Gwyneth, 15, like her older brother, attends Waldorf High in Indian Village.

"We weren't sure either of the children would be attracted to music, but they've both gotten interested within the past two years," Jones said. "Gwyn is a violinist, and Christopher, of course, plays string bass."

Wife Anne also is a musician and joined her husband in a recent performance to benefit the college's new grand piano.

She prefers prose writing, according to Jones, and currently is devoting her efforts as a features editor of a weekly suburban newspaper.

On the other hand, Bob has little time for anything other than music. Even his hobby as a model railroader has taken a side-track.

Besides composing, teaching, and performing, he is organist at the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

What's ahead for Bob Jones? Hopefully, a sabbatical leave for the winter semester in 1981.

"I plan to use the time to clean up some shorter musical works and to complete a music appreciation textbook for community colleges."

"Composition-wise," Jones said, "I've done practically every kind of work there is — jazz, motion picture score, symphonic, ballet, opera."

"I guess the best I can see ahead is perhaps bigger and better versions of each."

Ingilis to satirize 'Tales'

A rare treat for Chaucer lovers will be presented at Schoolcraft College on April 9, when Australian actor Rob Ingilis performs Nevil Coghill's modern English version of "The Canterbury Tales."

Ingilis' 2-hour program will include the Prologue; The Tobard Inn in Southwark on a night in the 14th Century; The Wife of Bath Prologue; The Wife of Bath's Tale; The Pardoner's Tale; The Nun's Priest's Tale and The Miller's Tale.

These selections of Chaucer's "sondry folk" — from sublimely noble to lecherously corrupt — come alive when Rob Ingilis portrays all the characters in the famed Tales. He satirizes the prioress, shows the pompous-riding merchant's resemblance to his 20th century counterpart and struts like a rooster.

Frederic L. Milstein of The Los Angeles Times said: "Ingilis enacted tastefully cut tales ... the Nun's Priest (starring a deftly-crowed Chanticleer and a fruity fox), and as a hilariously wild finale, the Miller's masterly fabliau with no fourletterisms or misdirected kisses barred.

The curtain speech was Chaucer's apology for writing about people as they really are. The medieval poet expected to roast in hell for the deed, but Ingilis got only applause from the soldout auditorium."

Ingilis trained in London at the Royal Shakespeare and National Royal Court Theatres. He says Chaucer is relevant for today because he was the greatest exposé of hypocrisy that ever lived. He has been performing his 1-man show, using a table and four chairs as props, all over the world for six years.

Ingilis believes that Chaucer's work is "like a tonic for the wounds of today. Chaucer is realistic, ironical, but joyful."

The performance is at 8 p.m. in the Waterman Campus Center. Tickets at $3 general admission and $2 students are available in advance at the Schoolcraft Bookstore, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia. Call 591-6400, ext. 265.

DSO will open Meadow Brook Festival

The Meadow Brook Music Festival opens its 17th season of outdoor concerts June 26 when Neville Marriner conducts the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in music inspired by Shakespeare.

The program features Berlioz' Beatrice and Benedict Overture, Tchaikovsky's Hamlet, and a performance of Mendelssohn's Incidental Music to a Midsummer's Nights Dream. Featured in the Mendelssohn work will be soprano Roma Ridell, mezzo soprano Barbara Windham, and the Kenneth Jewell Chorus.

The festival runs through August and, in addition to the Thursday-Saturday symphonic series, includes a Friday night variety series, Sunday pops series, matinees, and children's concerts, plus other concerts spotlighting popular entertainers.

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, recently back from a triumphant European tour, will return to its summer home for six weeks of concerts, followed by visits from the Chicago Symphony and the Minnesota Orchestra.

Marriner, festival artistic director will conduct three weeks of concerts, two with Detroit and the Minnesota week. He is the Minnesota Orchestra's music director.

Sixten Ehrling, Meadow Brook's first artistic director will return to conduct two concerts. Additional guest conductors of the Detroit Symphony are Kurt Sanderling making his second American appearance. Raymond Leppard and Stanislaw Skrowaczewski. Erich Leinsdorf will conduct the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Guest artists include pianists Ivan Moravec, Flavio Varani, Earl Wild, Nelson Friere, David Golub, and Leon Fleisher, plus violinists Gidon Kremer, Miriam Fried and Lea Foli, concertmaster of the Minnesota Orchestra. Other guest performers are cellist Lynn Harrell, mezzo soprano Claudine Carlson, tenor Frank Little and the Borodin Trio.

A special highlight of the festival will be the appearance of flutist James Galway, well known for his many best selling recordings.

The world premiere of Stanley Hollingsworth's Concerto for Piano and Orchestra will be performed July 5. Hollingsworth is composer-in-residence at Oakland University.

Concerts are held in the Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus in Rochester with entrances on Walton and Adams Road. More than 7,000 people can be seated in the pavilion and on the lawn.

All Thursday and Saturday concerts begin at 8:30 p.m., with the grounds opening at 6 p.m. for picnicking or dining at Trumbull Terrace.

Information on season subscriptions and a brochure are available by calling the Meadow Brook box office at (313) 377-2010.

Museum adds to 'Toys of Yesteryear'

From "Flash Gordon" to Apollo! These are the eras spanned by recent additions to the exhibit, "Toys of Yesteryear" at the Detroit Historical Museum.

The exhibit, highlighting the fine antique toy collection of Lawrence Wilkinson of Miami, Fla., features toys from the 1870s to the 1940s and both European and American manufacturers. To these Wilkinson has added a number of space toys, manufactured in the last 30 years and especially in response to the heightened interest in the solar system and America's space explorations.

"This marks a new area of toy collecting for me," said Wilkinson, "and one that I know will fascinate visitors to the Museum because America's space program is so much a part of our own recent heritage."

Included in the new collection of toys a "Flash Gordon Rocket Fighter", produced in 1935, and a "Space Drome" from 1950.

Space vehicles, such as the Jupiter rockets and the Apollo Lunar Module. "Eagle", and robots are included as well. This collection also points out clearly the change in toys manufactured over the past 20 years, for almost every one of these "space toys" were manufactured in Japan out of tin and plastic and are battery operated.

"Toys of Yesteryear" along with the "Space Toys" continue on display at the Detroit Historical Museum through Memorial Day. The museum, located on Woodward at Kirby in the Cultural Center, is open Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. - 5 p.m. Wednesday from 1 - 9 p.m., and Sunday from 1 - 5 p.m.
